GOVERNOR OF CALIFORNIA TO ENFORCE LAND LAW FOR JAPS

Stephens Notifies Washington That Anti-Japanese Bill Will Be Effective

MEDDLING IS RESENTED

Chief Executive Of State Declares People Dislike Outside Interference

(Reuter's Service)

Sacramento, California, December 10.—Governor Stephens has formally notified the State Department in Washington that the Anti-Alien Land Leasing Law will become effective on the 10th instant, and that he (the Governor) intends to exercise his "full constitutional Power in the enforcement of the statute—justly, of course, but effectually."

He says he does not desire to embarass the negotiations pending between the Department and Japan. Innumerable reports have reached his office in the last few months of unprecedented transactions in real estate by Japanese, and the sections of the State which are affected are outspoken in their denunciation of "the acquisition of agricultural real property for the purpose of evading the new land law. Litigation is bound to ensue, and the Attorney-General and District Attorneys will, with the full support of the State Government, apply all their resources to the full enforcement of the law."

He adds that public opinion is highly sensitive over interference with the sovereign right of the State to deal with its own domestic land problems.

Tokio, Dec. 12.—At a large mass meeting, the students adopted a resolution protesting to the world against the California anti-Japanese land law.

BILLION DOLLARS WILL BACK U.S. TRADE COMBINE

Herbert Hoover Declares Plan Is Greatest Event Since Armistice Was Signed

(Reuter's Service)

Chicago, Dec. 10.—The American Foreign Trade Financing Conference was opened here today by Mr. John Sylvester Drum, President of the American Bankers' Association.

Mr. Drum, in his inaugural address declared that the proposed hundred million dollar Foreign Trade Corporation would have a financial strength of a billion dollars.

Mr. Herbert Hoover supported the Foreign Trade Corporation, project, and said that if it were successful, "today's conference will have been one of the most momentous since the Armistice."

Other speakers emphasised the point that foreign trade was necessary for the commercial progress of the United States.

Farmers Would Cut Armament To Aid Export Of Produce

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Dec. 11.—The Farmers' National Council has recommended to the Senate Agriculture Committee that the army and navy appropriation be reduced by half and the money thus saved be used to finance the export of surplus crops.

The Council also urged the creation of a corporation for the purchase of wheat.

Finance Minister Makes $2,000,000 Military Grants

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Dec. 11.—In order to satisfy the endless applications for funds submitted by various quarters, Minister Chow Tzu-chi of Finance has made the following allocations to be effected before the end of the year:

1.—To General Tsao Kun	$300,000
2.—To General Chang Tso-lin	300,000
3.—To General Chen Yi	400,000
4.—To General Wang Chan-yuan	200,000
5.—To General Chang Wen-sen	200,000
6.—To General Li Hou-chi	200,000
7.—To The Szechuen Authorities	140,000
8.—To the Metropolitan Military Authorities	350,0000
9.—To the Ministry of War	40.000
10.—To the Authorities in charge of the disbandment of troops	350,000

Thus it will be seen that the single item of military grant amount to more than $2,000,000.

H. C. JACKSON DEAD IN HUNT TRAGEDY

Municipal Jail Warder Accidentally Shot While On Shooting Trip

News that H. C. Jackson, assistant warder at the Municipal jail, had been shot and killed in a hunting accident came with a shock to other members of the police force as well as to many other friends here yesterday.

Details of the accident were lacking last night and will only be known here when the shooting party returns with the body by the Nanking train this morning. A brief telegram received yesterday morning stated that the assistant warder had been accidentally shot and that the body would be brought back to Shanghai by the night train.

The shooting party of four, including Senior Warder W. Grant and Assistant Warder G. W. Dudley, had been away since the first of the month and was staying at Ziashu, on the railway between Chinkiang and Nanking, and it is believed that the fatality occurred at that place.

Mr. Jackson was only about 30 years of age and had been in Shanghai, a member of the jail staff, for only a little over a year. He fought all through the war with the British forces, having an excellent war record. He was unmarried.

An inquest will probably be opened today.

Japanese Apologise For Tientsin Affair

(Reuter's Service)

Peking, December 13.—Baron Shidehara, the Japanese Ambassador at Washington, on December 7 communicated to the Acting Secretary of State Mr. Davis, an expression of regret from the Japanese Government regarding the illegal arrest of the American soldiers in Tientsin on March 12, 1919.

Mr. Davis replied on the following day, accepting the apology and, in turn, expressing regret for the incident on March 13, when four American soldiers entered the Japanese Consulate-General and assaulted an official of the South Manchurian Railway.

SOCONY RAISES GASOLINE PRICE AS SILVER DROPS

Increase By Standard Oil Is Explained As Being Due To Exchange Rate

Although advances in the price of gasoline supplied by the Standard Oil Company have carried the figure to $1.13 a gallon and, for the higher grade $1.29 a gallon to the consumer, not all dealers are affected for the reason that the Asiatic Petroleum Company has not increased its price. By reason of this several of the larger garages still are supplying customers with gasoline at 80 cents a gallon and an officer of one company said yesterday that a continuance of this price practically is assured.

An official of the Standard Oil Company explained the advance in price ordered by that company as being due to the present high rate of exchange and offered the view that increase prices in general lines of products supplied from America could be ascribed to the same cause. He said the Shanghai office of the Standard Oil Company had received no intimation that an embargo had been placed on the shipment of petroleum products from the Pacific Coast to the Far East.

PREVENT HOARDING

In confirming the report that the Asiatic Petroleum had ordered no increase in prices of gasoline an official of the company explained that a limit had been placed on distribution to prevent hoarding. His company, he said, was selling to garages and dealers generally only their normal supplies.

The following upon the oil situation in California is issued by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce under date of Nov. 11.

San Francisco—The Pacific Coast faces a serious fuel oil shortage.

Oil consumption is outrunning oil production at the rate of 10,000,000 barrels per year.

Storage stocks of oil have been reduced already to an amount equivalent to only two months' average consumption, and the situation is steadily growing worse.

Curtailment of fuel oil consumption is even now being enforced, and unless there ensues at this time a substantial and steady increase in oil production and a general application of economies in consumption, sharper curtailment will be necessary in the near future.

These are the facts disclosed by the report of the special fuel oil committee appointed by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce two months ago to survey the fuel oil conditions in this State and to recommend measures of relief.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

This committee, whose report has just been filed with the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, is composed of Charles H. Bentley, chairman; J. R. Hanify, Wallace M. Alexander, Alfred I. Esberg, C. Parker Holt, Joseph J. Tynan and Leon G. Levy; secretary, R. H. Vorfeld.

In its effort to help the present acute situation and to discount the discouraging forecast of the future, the Chamber of Commerce has received and considered many suggestions and recommendations.

Included among them are the curtailment of regional fuel oil delivery; electrification of railroads; use of Mexican fuel oil by merchant and naval vessels; importation of oil; decrease of export of California oil, use of fuel oil substitues; general voluntary curtailment of consumption by fuel oil users; encouragement of oil prospecting by amendment of Federal legislation; installation of fuel-saving equipment by oil consumers; definite encouragment and support of hydro-electric power development.

As of chief importance in the problem of permanent betterment the Chamber names the early and rapid development of hydro-electric power. Involved in this is the possible electrification of railroads which now consume from 37 to 40 percent of the California fuel oil supply, and the general substitution of hydro-electric power for fuel oil in industry.

FRENCH COUNCIL ASKED TO HALT OPIUM SELLING

Body Is Urged To Act Against Sales In Concession

Assistance by the French Municipal Council for the suppression of opium sales in the French Concession was asked in a letter addressed yesterday to the council by the International Anti-opium Association. The letter was sent as the result of a meeting of the committee when it was brought out that there are still a number of shops in the Concession where the drug is openly sold.

The society yesterday also addressed a telegram to Tuchun Chen Shu-fang of Shensi, urging him to take strong steps in the suppression of opium planting in his province. It was alleged that the Tuchun has ordered the farmers to neglect their usual crops and cultivate poppy. The Tuchun is said to be raising a tariff of $6 per mow for his own benefit.

LETTER TO COUNCIL

The letter to the French Municipal Council was as follows:

"As you will be aware all nations have agreed to suppress the sale of opium, and although much progress has been made in recent years yet there is still some trade in the noxious drug.

"At a recent meeting of our Association in discussing the present difficulties of finally suppressing the sale, it was mentioned that there are a number of shops in the French Settlement where opium is still sold openly.

"We have no doubt that definite orders have been issued by you about the sale of opium, but if there has been some slackness in observing the orders, we trust that you will take notice of the matter."

British Oil Men Get Mexico Rights Despite U.S. Protest

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Dec. 10.—Official advices from Mexico forecast complications there, owing to the Provisional Government having granted scores of oil exploration and exploitation permits in the Federal zone, despite American protests last August.

It is stated that those to whom these grants were made have transferred virtually all their newly-acquired rights to British oil corporations.

Hundreds Of Women Are Executed By Sebastopol Reds

(Reuter's Service)

Constantinople, Dec. 11.—The Provisional Revolutionary Committee at Sebastopol has published the first lists of civilians and soldiers who have been shot by orders of the Extraordinary Commission since November 28. The lists contain nearly 3,000 names, of which 500 are those of women.

Germany Accused Of Neglecting Miners

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Dec. 10.—At the meeting of the Committee on Foreign Affairs of the Chamber it was stated that none of the Allied advances to Germany to improve the feeding of the miners of the Ruhr district had been expended for that purpose.

The Premier, M. Georges Leygues, declared that Germany had undoubtedly not carried out her undertakings. He added that France's 1921 Budget provided for advances of several hundreds of thousands of marks to Germany. This situation, he said, could not last.

Pacific Fleet Hears Pretty Girl Sing Through Wireless Phone

Two admirals and the entire force of the Pacific Fleet, let official business "stand by" recently while they listened to the first concert ever given via wireless telephone. Miss Mabelle Burch, brilliant young colorature, who is singing with the Metropolitan Quartette, has a brother, Carlton, on the Submarine F-2, [illegible] Burch asked permission to sing to her brother at sea by wireless telephone. The request was granted by Admiral Hugh Rodman and an order issued for the entire fleet to listen in. The photo shows Admiral Rodman in his cabin on board the Pacific Fleet flagship, New Mexico, listening while Miss Burch sings by wireless phone to her brother at sea.

Harding Asks Advice Of All Factions As To His Foreign Policy

(Reuter's Service)

Marion, Ohio, Dec. 11.—President-Elect Warren Harding states that he expects to seek the opinions of more than a hundred men and women on the subject of his "Association of Nations" scheme, before his inauguration as President. Mr. Harding confers with Mr. Herbert Hoover tomorrow, Mr. Elihu Root on Monday and Mr. William Jennings Bryan on Friday.

Marion, Ohio, Dec. 12.—The fact that President-Elect Warren G. Harding has invited Mr. William J. Bryan to give his views in regard to the former's proposed "Association of Nations" is regarded as important, as indicating the readiness of Mr. Harding to go outside his own party for advice.

MASKED MEN PUT SLAYERS OF PEACE OFFICER TO DEATH

(Reuter's Service)

Santa Rosa, Cal., Dec. 10.—The unwritten law was enforced in dramatic circumstances here today. About 100 masked men broke into the local jail early this morning, took out three gangsters charged with the murder of three officers of the Peace here last Sunday, and hanged them on a tree.

The assault on the jail was well-planned, and was carried out without hitch or hustle. The raiders drove up noiselessly in at least fifteen motor cars. They came equipped with acetylene torches to burn off the locks if necessary, but as it turned out there was no need to use them.

The party took the Sheriff completely by surprise, pinioned him and secured his keys to the cells. Then, while some of them kept their eye on the Sheriff, the others went in for the three gangsters. The whole operation was carried out swiftly and silently.

The only answer vouchsafed to the gangsters' protests was. "Take your medicine." Half-an-hour later the champions of the unwritten law had disappeared from Santa Rosa.

The actors in this grim drama were in earnest and not rehearsing for the "movies."

SEATTLE COURT RELEASES WARD ON $5,000 BAIL

According to word received in Shanghai yesterday Mr. Robert L. Ward, former manager of the Shanghai Motors Company, who was arrested recently at Seattle on a series of charges made against him here, has been released on bail of $5,000.

Ward was arrested in the latter part of November as he was leaving a steamer after having crossed the Pacific from Shanghai. Three charges of embezzlement of sums aggregating about Taels 29,000, one charge of obtaining a letter of credit of $20,000 by fraud and a fifth charge of forgery stand against him in the United States Court for China, having been filed on behalf of Mr. C. Y. Chang, secretary and treasurer of the Shanghai Motors Company.

A radio message received from Seattle on the day of the arrest stated that 42 pieces of jewelry Ward is said to have obtained through fraud in Shanghai were found in his baggage.

Whether Ward will be brought back to Shanghai for trial has not yet been determined. American officials say that extradition proceedings will not be required if it is decided to bring him back, as he is under federal charges and would be removed only from one federal jurisdiction to another.

It is thought here that the particular charge for which Ward is being held at Seattle is one relating to the forgery charge here and has to do with an alleged attempt to take into the United States a Chinese house boy upon the representation that the Chinese is a merchant. The forgery charge is based upon the allegation that Ward presented a forged letter to the American Consulate that enabled him to take the Chinese boy with him.

Municipal Buildings And Carnegie Library Destroyed By Flames

Martial Law Is Proclaimed In Cork, Tipperary Kerry And Limerick As Rioting And Carnage Increase Despite Efforts To Bring About Peace

(Reuter's Service)

London, Dec. 12, 3:00 p.m.—Following upon an ambush of Cadets, a great part of Cork City has been burned down.

4:30 p.m.—The fire at Cork is still raging and spreading, and the area of the devastation is very extensive. The outbreak began in some shops in Patrick Street at 10 o'clock last night, that being the curfew hour.

Shortly afterwards the City Hall and Municipal Buildings, a quarter of a mile distant, were found to be on fire. The flames spread to the Carnegie Free Library. All three of these splendid buildings have been destroyed.

BUSINESS HOUSES BURNED

Among the other buildings that were burned were some great drapery and outfitting houses in Munster Arcade, and scores of other business establishments. The greater part of the southern side of Patrick Street has been ruined.

The scenes during the night were terrifying, and the air was filled with the explosions of bombs, the firing of shots and the crash of falling roofs and walls of the buildings that were on fire. The citizens were thrown into a state of consternation.

It is reported that several military, who had been captured in an ambush prior to the fire, were killed.

DAMAGE IS HEAVY

9:30 p.m.—The damage caused by the fire is roughly estimated at £2,500,000.

It is reported that two persons were killed and 14 wounded by the firing during the night.

The whole city is now under the control of the military, who are remaining on duty indefinitely, in order to prevent further damage.

According to an official statement, it is believed that bombs were thrown at Cork from surrounding houses into passing military lorries. One wounded cadet has died from his wounds.

MARTIAL LAW PROCLAIMED

London, Dec. 1.—The Irish counties in which martial law has been proclaimed are Cork, Tipperary, Kerry and Limerick.

London, Dec. 10.—In the course of an important announcement on the Irish situation, in the House of Commons today, Mr. Lloyd George, referred to the recent resolution passed by the Sinn Fein County Council of Galway, requesting the British Government to appoint three delegates to negotiate a truce and preliminary terms of peace.

GIVE SAFE CONDUCT

The Premier said the Government had decided to give a safe-conduct to Sinn Fein memebers of Parliament for the purposes of such a meeting, but this would not apply to those members who had been involved in the commission of serious crimes.

At the same time, the Government was determined, said Mr. Lloyd George, to do its utmost to break up the terrorists. The last two terrible incidents had convinced the Government that stronger action was necessary, and martial law would be proclaimed in certain areas. In this proclamation, the surrender of arms and uniforms would be demanded by a certain date, and all unauthorised persons found in possession of arms or wearing uniforms, after that date would be treated as rebels, and liable to the death penalty by court martial.

MAY EXTEND AREA

According to an official announcement, martial law will at first be applied to a limited area in the South-West of Ireland, where lawlessness is most prevalent, but this area will unhesitatingly be extended if developments require it.

London, Dec. 10.—The following is an amplification of passages in the Prime Minister's statement in the House of Commons this afternoon:

The Government, he said, were convinced that the majority of the Irish people were anxious for peace. The Government were also anxious for a real peace on the basis of the unbroken unity of the United Kingdom.

On the other hand, the section which controlled the organisation of murder and outrage was not yet ready for real peace. All their communications were conceived in the spirit of an independent, belligerent Power, with whom they were at war.

INTENSIFY CAMPAIGN

The Government had decided that they would continue and intensify their campaign against the small, highly organised and desperate minority, who were using murder and outrage in order to attain the impossible, which could not bring peace to either Ireland or Great Britain.

The policy of the Government was, on the one hand, the repression of crime, and, on the other hand, to prepare the way towards a better

Philippines To Be Exempt From New Immigration Bill

Time Limit Of One Year Is Set By House When Amendment Is Offered

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Dec. 11.—The House of Representatives by 87 votes to 25 adopted an amendment to the Johnson Immigration Bill introduced by Congressman James R. Mann of Illinois, limiting the embargo on immigration to one year instead of two.

The House also adopted a further amendment moved by Congressman Mann exempting the Philippines from the embargo on immigration. The Congressman declared that the Philippines might soon be independent: hence further legislation for the Philippines was not desirable.

The Republican leaders are agreed that the question of the repeal of war emergency legislation should be considered by Congress as soon as the Immigration Bill has been disposed of. It is hoped to bring the repeal proposal up for debate next week.

Washington, Dec. 11.—The House of Representatives has postponed the Immigration Bill until Monday.

Washington, Dec. 11.—Mr. Knutson, Republican, opening the debate in the House of Representatives on the Immigration Bill, charged several foreign Governments with having financed the movements of European extremists to America. He declared that Spain was "a seething mass of anarchy," and that the Spanish Government was dumping it to America.

Several Representatives opposed the bill, as oppressive towards lovers of liberty, who wished to seek a haven in America.

Leaders Urge Goto To Be Tokio Mayor

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Dec. 10.—Viscount Shibusawa and other leaders are selecting a committee of ten members to ask the Premier, Mr. Hara, to use his influence to persuade Baron Goto to accept the mayoralty of Tokio.

understanding between the two peoples.

The Premier referred to Father O'Flannagan's telegram, suggesting negotiations, and pointed out that Father O'Flannagan's action had been repudiated by the murder organisation.

Nevertheless, the Government had replied, saying that it was prepared to offer facilities for a complete discussion of the whole situation by duly elected representatives of constituencies in any part of Ireland on the fundamental conditions laid down by the Government. He was glad to learn that the party Father O'Flannagan represented was prepared to accept them.

INSURGENTS ON RUN

Referring to the decision to proclaim martial law in certain areas, the Premier said the insurgent forces, by the strong action which had been taken, had been compelled to take to the hills, from which they attacked the police and intimidated the people, who were tired of terrorism, and it was necessary that these insurgents should be captured and broken up.

They would be given time to surrender arms and uniforms, either to officials of the Crown or to their parish priests, provided the latter would hand over these arms. If these were not surrendered within a given specified time, their possessors would be treated as rebels, and liable to the death penalty. The same penalty would be applicable to those who were the uniforms of His Majesty's forces, and those harbouring rebels.

Mr. Lloyd George expressed his regret at the necessity for martial law, but said the Government was determined to make the authority of the law and the Empire paramount, and, at the same time, to convince Ireland that the British House of Commons and the British nation were willing to parley with the people of Ireland, with a view to establishing peace, good-will and friendship.

London, Dec. 12.—Fifty men were ambushed in a military lorry in Country Limerick, which was under martial law, on Friday night. A fight ensued, in which seven of the assailants were captured. One soldier was wounded.

Two Sino-Japanese Loans Concluded

Despite of the denials made by Peking of the report that the government is again borrowing from Japan, it has been learned that two loans of $3,000,000 each were concluded secretly towards the end of the last month. They are known as the Chengchow Railway and Mining Loan and the Tsinanfu Commercial Port Loan.

The security for the first loan is the commercial development of Chengchow, Honan, by Japan. The money is to be divided among the Central Government, General Chao Ti, the Tuchun and other Honan militarists.

For the other loan, the concessions to the Japanese were the right of development of the Tsinan Waterway Administration and the Kukow Railroad. Of this sum, $1,000,000 will be allocated to Tuchun Tien Chun-yu for the expenses of his province while the balance is to be utilised by Premier Chin for the next election.

Land Case Heard In British Court

An interim injunction granted on B. C. Lots 4405, 4477 and 6787, and French Lot 75 was extended 15 more days yesterday in the British Supreme Court in the case of Chen Sih-che and Koh Ching-ming against Davies and Brooke and J. A. Hayes. The defendants were ordered to file their defence within this period.

Plaintiffs' claim was for (1) a declaration that plaintiff Chen is beneficially entitled to a two-fifths part of the area of British Consular Lot 4405 and is further beneficially entitled to a one-fifth part of the aggregate areas of B.C. Lots 4477 and 6787 and of French Lot 75. (2) a declaration that plaintiff Koh is beneficially entitled to a three-fifths part of Lot 4405 and further of a three-tenths part of 4477 and 6787 and French lot 75.

Blockade Is Weapon To Be Used Against Covenant Violators

Non-Permanent Seats On League Council To Be Offered America, Europe, Asia, Africa And Oceania

(Reuter's Service)

Geneva, December 10.—The Assembly of the League of Nations, on the motion of Lord Robert Cecil (South Africa) accepted without amendment the report of the committee on the use of the blockade as an economic weapon against Covenant-breaking States. The Assembly also passed the proposed organisation to deal with public health, in connection with the League.

Geneva, December 11.—The Council of the League of Nations has appointed the following to be members of the Commission which, with Colonel Chardigny as chairman, will determine the limits of the Vilna plebiscite area: General Burt (Great Britain), Senor Saura (Spanish Consul at Brussels) and M. von Sydow (Sweden).

WILSON IS CHEERED

Geneva, December 11.—Thundering cheers greeted the announcement in the Assembly by the Chairman, M. Hymans, that the Nobel Peace Prize for 1919 had been awarded to President Wilson, and that for 1920 to M. Leon Bourgeois. M. Bourgeois was heartily congratulated by the delegates. The Assembly decided to telegraph its congratulations to the President of the United States.

The Assembly discussed the question of the election of the four non-permanent members of the League Council, whom Article 4 of the Covenant provides; "shall be selected by the Assembly from time to time in its discretion."

Reports on the subject were submitted by Mr. Balfour, Chairman of the First Commission, and Dr. Wellington Koo (China) and M. Ustern (Switzerland), Reporters to the Commission.

U.S. OFFERED SEAT

There had been some diversity of opinion on the Commission regarding the period of membership, but it was finally proposed that the four non-permanent members of the Council should be elected during the present session of the Assembly for a period of one year. The Assembly adopted this provision.

The reports further stated that the Commission, "convinced of the necessity for representation on the Council of the principal ethnic divisions of humanity and of the great currents of civilisation," recommended allocating three of the non-permanent seats on the Council to Europe and America and the fourth to Asia, Africa and Oceania. This recommendation was adopted by the Assembly unanimously.

London, Dec. 12.—A Geneva telegram states that, at a meeting of the Armaments Sub-Committee, Viscount Ishii said that Japan objected to observing the conditions of disarmament proposed by the League so long as other Powers outside the League would not observe them. Japan would increase her armaments, in accordance with her program, next year, and probably the year after.

DEMOCRAT CRITICISM

Washington, Dec. 12.—In the Senate, Senator Walsh, a Democrat, introduced a resolution, requesting President Wilson to appoint an American representative to meet the League of Nations Disarmament Commission. Senator Walsh argued that the President's reasons for not participating in the League were inadequate, and asserted that the country was in favor of any movement towards world disarmament.

Moreover, he said, America's non-participation was open to misconception, owing to the fact that the almost inconceivable sum of $1,500,000,000 was demanded for the army and navy.

Geneva, Dec. 12.—The Armaments Commission of the League has considered the report of the Disarmaments Sub-Commission, presented by Mr. H. A. L. Fisher (Great Britain) who insisted on the importance of the question for the salvation of humanity.

The Commission agreed to the suggestion that the various Government should be asked to curtail their present army estimates.

Santiago de Chile, Dec. 12.—A conference, attended by the Foreign Minister, the members of the Foreign Affairs Committees of Parliament, the President-Elect, and the Chilean Minister to London, has decided that Chile shall continue to support the League of Nations, while, at the same time, it endorsed the principles submitted by the Argentine delegation, especially in regard to the representation of States in the Council of the League.

THREE SPEAKERS TO BE HEARD AT CARLTON TIFFIN

C. C. Nieh Of Chinese Chamber, Julean Arnold And Dr. C. T. Wang To Speak

Mr. C. C. Nieh, Chairman of the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce, just back from a seven months' trip through England, France, Germany and the United States; Mr. Julean Arnold, American Commercial Attache; and Dr. C. T. Wang, recently minister plenipotentiary to the peace conference, will be the speakers at the coming meeting of the Pan-Pacific Association which is to be held in the Carlton Cafe Friday at 12:20 o'clock. Mr. A. W. Burkill, Chairman of the British Chamber of Commerce, will preside.

The meeting promises to be one of unusual interest, for Mr. Nieh, who is also the proprietor of the Heng Foong Cotton Mills, has some interesting observations to make on his investigations into the industrial and economic conditions of the countries he visited, while Dr. Wang, will report on recent important developments in the work of his roads committee. The Membership Committee, under Mr. Arthur Bassett, also has an amendment to the Laws to propose.

In spite of the apparent length of the program, members are promised that they will not be detained after two o'clock. Tiffin will be served promptly at 12:30 and the speeches will begin at one o'clock. Late comers will be asked to commence their meal with the course being served at the time of their arrival.

Notices and reply cards will be issued to all members of the Pan-Pacific Association during the day. The meeting, however, is open to the public, to ladies as well as gentlemen, admission being the price of the tiffin, or $1.50, which will be received at the door. Books Worth Reading

Flappers and Philosophers, by F. Scott Fitzgerald $3.50
Mr. Fitzgerald's success as a writer has been astonishing and acclaimed by reviewers as revealing a writer of genius and within two weeks this book has gone to press for the third time. His success with short story was no less spectacular.

The House of Lynch, by Leonard Merrick $4.50
The book is not a tragedy—in fact, this story of a self respecting artist who successfully upholds his independence against the degrading influence of great and dishonest wealth, is too much of a triumph of human soul to be called tragic compelling our admiration.

Theodore Roosevelt "100% American," by Wm. Roscoe Thayer $2.00
—The Classics of All American Biographies—
The author of this splendid biography of the man who will go down the ages as the "great 100 % American" was a college mate and life long friend of Roosevelt, and knew him with an intimacy which few men have enjoyed. He says in the preface: "I count it fortunate for me that during the last ten years of his life, I was thrown more with Roosevelt than during all the earlier periods; and so I was able to observe him, to know his motives, and to study his character during the chief crises of his later career."

The result is a remarkable union of freshness and poise, understanding and sympathy—the classics of all American biographics.

Alsace In Rust and Gold, by O'Shaughnessy $3.50
A story full of heart-throbs if there ever was one—a story to dream over and never forget.

The Tempering, by C. N. Buck $2.25
Out of the lives of three striking personalities, in the tradition-haunted hills of Kentucky—the Author produces a strong, steel true story.

The Shepherd of the Sea, by Leverage $3.00
A way up north story—with a strange lone story—with a dramatic climax.

Yellow Soap, by K. H. Taylor $2.65
A story of a boy who grows up out of an atmosphere of yellow laundry soap—and through strength and experience gains social position.

Potash and Perlmutter, by Glass $3.25
Abe and Maurus had to go to the Peace Conference—and you can imagine what happened—never funnier.

The Wind Between The Worlds, by Alice Brown $3.50
The question of life after death and communications with the dead. Universally and vitally interesting.

Appeal To Government To Put Down Brigands In Famine Stricken Area

Tientsin Relief Body Send Wire To Diplomatic Corps; Local Organisation Endorses Additional Grants Of $136,000

Effort to get the Chinese Government to actively suppress the depredations of brigands and disbanded soldiery in the famine stricken districts is being made by the North China International Society of Famine Relief at Tientsin, which has appealed to the Diplomatic Body to make representations to the Peking government.

The society has sent the following letter to Don Luis Pastor, dean of the Diplomatic Corps:

PROTECTION FOR WORKERS

"Excellency,

"The members of the Governing Board of the North China International Society of Famine Relief at Tientsin beg to call to the attention of the Foreign Ministers at Peking, through your kind office, the robbery and outrages committed by the brigands and disbanded soldiers in the famine districts and to request your Excellencies to make such representations to the Chinese Government Authorities with the view of safeguarding the foreign and native workers engaged in relief work in the famine stricken districts.

"The membership of this relief society is made up of citizens of various friendly nations and we submit that they are entitled to demand adequate protection from the Chinese Government while engaging in such work. The presence of tufeis and undisciplined soldiers not only adds to the miseries of the already unfortunate inhabitants but also discourages any attempt by the good people who are doing their best to relieve the situation. In the name of humanity, we earnestly request the co-operation of your Excellencies to bring this matter to the notice of the Chinese Government so that peace and order may be maintained in the famine districts.

"The present famine in North China is unprecedented and millions of poor people are facing death through no fault of their own. The pathetic condition has roused sympathy from all quarters and everywhere efforts are being made to save the people from cold and starvation. The different relief societies which are doing their best to keep alive the starving population in the five Northern provinces, feel the magnitude of their undertaking and unless the Government comes to their aid they will not be able to keep on with their work. May we venture to ask your Excellencies to ascertain from the Chinese Government her policy toward this all-important situation?"

GRANTS OF $136,000

Grants totaling $136,000 were endorsed or favorably recommended at the last meeting of the distribution Committee of the Chinese Foreign Famine Relief body here. The meeting was attended by Messrs. Wang, Loh, Woo, Zee, Lester, Grosbois, Fleming and Souter and the report made was as follows:

(1) The appeal from lady doctors Dow and McLavish, Changte, Honan for $4,500.00 to save newly-born babies and their mothers in famine area, was recommended to the general Committee with our entire approval.

(2) It was agreed to advise a grant of $50,000.00 to the Honan Famine Relief Committee and recommend that $10,000.00 of this amount be used for soup kitchen work under the Honan Committee.

(3) A telegraphic appeal from a joint Committee of Chinese Foreign Famine Relief Committee Sianfu, Shensi was read telling of over two and one half million people starving. This appeal was endorsed by Bishop Graves and others, and we recommend that $20,000.00 be sent to this Committee.

(4) We recommend that $50,000.00 be sent to Tientsin Famine Relief Society to purchase grain on our behalf conditional on previous purchases being completed and grain thus purchased having been transported to Tientsin.

(5) It was further agreed that we send $10,000.00 to the Tientsin International Society of Famine Relief to be used in distributing relief through a Buddist Association, provided the Tientsin International Society of Famine Relief is entirely satisfied with this Association, whose relief-work will be done under the control of the Tientsin Committee.

(6) We place on record the excellent work being done by the Women's Famine Relief Society of Shanghai in providing clothing for the famine sufferers, a large quantity of which has been already sent into the famine area. We recommend that $2,000.00 be granted to this organisation for their work in providing clothing.

CHAMBERS WIRE REPLIES

The local committee has received a number of replies from Chinese Chambers of Commerce in various cities regarding the request for co-operation in the matter of raising funds.

The Amoy Chamber wires that it has already remitted $300 to Peking and will remit future collections to Shanghai. Wanhsien asks for a copy of the local committee's regulations in order that action may be taken. Ichang replies that it has already been approached by various bodies and does not feel able to start another branch committee. The Hwaianfu Chamber wires that at a meeting it was decided to form a branch committee and money raised will be forwarded.

F. M. S. GIVES $125,000

It is reported from Singapore that the Government of the Federated Malay States, with the cordial approval of the Unofficial Members of Council, is contributing the sum of $125,000 toward China famine relief. The money is being remitted to the British Minister at Peking.

FAMINE FUNDS RECEIVED

On behalf of the Canadian Presbyterian Missionaries in Honan, Mrs. D. MacGillivray wishes to acknowledge, with thanks, the following sums for famine relief:

Ningpo Chinese and Foreign Famine Relief Committee, per Mr. F. R. Milliken, $40.00; Dr. Hamilton, $3.00; The Circle, per secretary, $27.00; Girls' Mission Band, Ingersoll, Canada, G. $5.00; Mrs. Elizabeth Dadison, $25.00; C. M. S. Church, Srinagar, Kashmir, India, $20.70; Mrs. A. D. Rice, Haichow, $50.00; Mrs. Misbaumer, $5.00; Miss G. Coppock, $15.00.

Inter Island Ships Will Be Laid Up

(Reuter's Service)

San Francisco, December 11.—More than 30 percent of the inter-island tonnage of the Philippines will (according to advices from Manila) be taken out of commission on January 1, as the result of a decision of the shipowners' Association.

The ships to be laid off will be selected by lot, and the losses mutually shared among the companies.

A statement from the Shipowners' Association gives as the reason for this curtailment "the paralysation of commercial activities in general."

Britain Prepares To Meet Obligation For Silver Advances

Debt To United States Will Be Met By 1924, Is Agreement Reached

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Dec. 10.—Mr. David F. Houston, Secretary of the Treasury, has announced the details of a plan, whereby Great Britain agrees to pay a debt of $122,000,000, due to the United States for silver purchased during the war, by 1924. The debt represents bullion obtained from melting down silver dollars, in order to relieve the shortage in India.

The money will be paid in equal annual instalments from 1921 to 1924, in the proportions of 60 percent on April 4, and 40 percent on May 15, each year, with accrued interest at 5 percent from April 15, 1919.

Until the payment is completed, Great Britain will permit the United States Treasury to make tenders for the purchase of rupee credits offered in India on the same terms as British nationals.

Moscow Urged To Hurry Peace Pact

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Dec. 12.—M. Dombski, Chairman of the Polish peace delegation at Riga; has just replied to the note addressed by Tchitcherin, Bolshevik Commissary for Foreign Affairs, to Prince Sapieha, Polish Minister for Foreign Affairs, regarding the alleged maneuvers on the part of the Poles to prolong the peace negotiations.

He expresses astonishment that the Moscow authorities should have increased their military effectives instead of proceeding with demobilisation of the Red army, and regrets the silence of Moscow on the subject of exchanging prisoners of war.

On the other hand, M. Joffe, Chairman of the Bolshevik peace delegation, has forwarded a Note to the Polish delegation expressing the fear that the territory occupied by Generel Zeligowski is becoming a hot-bed of anti-Bolshevik agitation.

CHINA LOOKS TO LEAGUE FOR AID ASSERTS DR. KOO

(Reuter's Service)

Geneva, Dec. 11.—The Second Commission of the League (on technical organisation) yesterday considered the control of the opium traffic and the treatment of women and children, and it was decided that a general conference should be summoned to consider the matter.

Dr. Wellington Koo (China), addressing a number of journalists, protested against the recent statements by Baron Hayashi that Japan desired to negotiate with China on the subject of Kiaochow, and would consent to the withdrawal of her troops if China would give guarantees; also that China was in a state of extreme unrest and lacked a firmly established central Government. Dr. Koo said the disturbances were superficial and local. China was on the way to making a success of the first democratic experiment in Asia. She relied on the League of Nations to help her. The question of Shantung would be brought up when the League was less busy.

Ring Mow-Zu Case Before U.S. Court

Intimation Given That One Of Several Actions May Be Adjusted

Following a hearing in the United States Court for China yesterday of one of several suits of Ring Mow-zu versus Wilkins Brothers and Company, an action that has been pending for several months, it was intimated that a settlement out of court may be reached in the case.

Ring Mow-zu, plaintiff, is suing on behalf of a Japanese company which he represents and his action is the outgrowth of a loan he entered into with the defendant company. It was represented that the loan, amounting to Taels 191,780, was obtained on security deposited in trust in yen and the issue raised centers upon the amount of interest that was charged.

It was set forth in the petition that Wilkins Brothers and Company, employing the security that was given, obtained the loan from the American Express Company at a discount rate of seven percent, but in addition to a charge of ten percent charged to the plaintiff for the loan, had asked for an additional ten percent, which, the petition asserts was paid. Recovery of the alleged excess discount charge, approximately Taels 5,338, and one percent commission said to be due to Ring Mow-zu are sought in the suit.

"HANK" GARRITY OF PRINCETON WILL PROBABLY BE CHOSEN ON ALL-AMERICA FOOTBALL TEAM

Scrappy Princeton Backfield Star Showed Himself To Be Gridiron Wonder By Work In Game Against Harvard Before 47,000 At Stadium

"Hank" Garrity, the scrappy Princeton backfield star, is one of the greatest all-around gridiron performers of the present generation of moleskin wearers. If a vote of the 47,000 patrons who filled the Harvard Stadium were taken the Princeton player would receive the strongest endorsement for all-American honors. He was the bright particular star of the memorable battle which went to a 14 to 14 tie score.

True it is that a large number of other stars shone with a brilliancy which made their work stand out in deep constrast to that of their brother players. Stan Keck, Don Lourie, Mike Callahan, Legendre, Dickinson, Scheerer, Gilroy and Murrey each played a fine type of game for Princeton, while Horween, Tolbert, Woods, Havemeyer, Faxon, Churchill, Owen, Buell, Fitts, Sedgwick and Crocker, of Harvard, covered themselves with glory.

However, the particular star who impressed most sideline critics was Hank Garrity, the stockily built halfback who gained many yards for the Orange and Black on attack and saved them time and again with his sterling defensive playing when Harvard looked most dangerous.

The great things which had been written about the Harvard rushline caused many Princetonians to expect their team to resort to a wide-open attack. When they witnessed Bill Roper's charges tearing through these husky forwards for large gains they began to look about for the cause of this unexpected bucking strength. They did not have to look for any great length of time. One glance at Hank Garrity in action was sufficient to establish in their minds the fact that Roper has one of the greatest stars of the game in the sterling back.

SMASHED THROUGH LINE

It was Garrity who was entrusted with the pigskin after Sam Keck had blocked one of Owen's punts on the 16-yard line in the third period. The way he plunged across the Crimson goal line with the second tally for Princeton immediately after the start of the final quarter, was as fine an exhibition of line cracking as any one would care to witness. He went over the last chalk mark like a shot out of a gun. Nothing in the way of human defense could have stopped him.

All through the contest Garrity was the stabiliser of the Tiger outfit. When it was a question of gaining a couple of yards for a first down Garrity always received the assignment. However, it must be said in fairness to the other Tiger backs, that they gave their best in assisting Garrity to his great accomplishments. Gilroy, Lourie, Murray and Scheerer are capable backs. Each contributed his share in keeping Harvard from beating their team.

On the defense Garrity showed himself to be a marvel so far as backing up a line is concerned. No presentday back is more capable of playing secondary defense than Bill Roper's star. The fact that he intercepted a couple of forward passes is proof of his all-around ability. Yale is going to find this Orange and Black jerseyed lad a hard man to stop either on the offense or defense.

KECK AND LOURIE STARS

Stan Keck and Don Lourie are two other Princeton stars who did yeoman's work in their team's interest. Keck is without doubt all-American timber. Big, strong and aggressive, he has the speed of an end. He time and again beat his ends down the field on kicks. His offensive-line play was above reproach. He opened up holes with a freedom which stamps him a great tackle, while on the defensive he proved himself the rock upon which many of Harvard's plays went to smash.

Lourie is a star in the making. He is the game type of field general that Strubbling proved himself to be last season. Cool, quiet and with his eyes open for any advantage, he runs the Tigers in a fashion to get the best out of them. His running back of kicks and his end runs were quite as good as those shown by any other player. However, his manner of receiving the forward pass which contributed to his team's first score was as remarkable a feat as one would care to witness.

Running wide from a kick formation, he dashed down the right side of the field. Murrey, who occupied the rear back position, caught sight of this streak of Orange and Black running along the side lines and hurled the pigskin in its direction.

LOURIE SHOWS NERVE

It was at this stage of the game that Lourie showed himself to be a cool heady player when under fire. Seeing that if he attempted to pass the man who was opposing him on the outside he would be forced out of bounds, the Princeton star made a quick shift to the inside and caught the pigskin as his Harvard rival was trying to make the turn to cover him against receiving

Interport Tennis Nets $400 For Charity

The recent interport tennis matches resulted in a balance for some $400 after paying all expenses, and the Hongkong Lawn Tennis Association has decided to dispose of this sum by making grants of $75 each to the Hongkong Benevolent Society, the St. Vincent de Paul Society and the Missions to Seamen, the balance to be handed over to the Secretary for Chinese Affairs for distribution amongst deserving Chinese charities.

work. It may have escaped many, but to those on the sidelines it was as beautiful piece of work as was ever seen pulled in a big championship match. The fact that Lourie made the play with such ease is further proof of the Tiger star's fine football ability.

While Princeton contributed a number of stars it cannot be said that Harvard was far back in this regard. Captain Arnold Horween showed himself to be a born leader. It was his magnificent example which helped the Crimson players to come back as they did and snatch a tie out of what appeared to all intent and purpose to be a defeat.

The way the Crimson team fought during the last ten minutes of the game will go down in Harvard football history as one of the finest exhibitions of all time. It was the sort of playing that is only witnessed once in a long while.

SEDGWICK DESERVES PRAISE

"Duke" Sedgwick, who was hustled in at the last quarter to brace up the Crimson rush line, accomplished his work like an old master. By his fine work he showed himself to be one of the star linemen of the season. It has been years since a faster or more scrappy tackle has been seen on a gridiron. Had Bob Fisher not had a lad of Sedgwick's type to run in as he did, the Crimson never would have saved itself from defeat. Sedgwick braced the line in such manner that the tired Princeton forwards found themselves being outplayed the first time during the afternoon in the closing minutes of the contest. Few players would be equal to such a task. For his fine work Sedgwick is commended.

Tolbert, at left guard was a tower of strength on defense. He was the outstanding star of the Crimson forwards. A steady, hard charging, aggressive lineman, he did much to help Harvard gain on attack, and kept many of the Princeton backs from racing through the Crimson line when the Nassau collegians enjoyed the privilege of carrying the ball. The fine way he teamed up with Woods, the right guard, added strength to the Cambridge first line of defense. Woods is a steady, hard plugger. His work did not stand out as did that of Keck, Sedgwick of Tolbert, but he was always where he should have been in every play.

Baseball Rules To Be Revised In U.S.

(Reuter's Service)

New York, Dec. 11.—The greatest baseball convention ever assembled has just opened here; its program includes a complete reorgnisation of the rules and regulations of the sport.

Advices from Los Angeles state that a Grand Jury there has returned an indictment charging five players with criminal conspiracy in the Pacific Coast League 1919 series.

Invasion By Americans Is Incentive To Golfers Who Will Play For Britain

Honors Are Easy Now But Abe Mitchell Figures Evans To Win Next Spring; Hilton Won American Trophy In 1911

BY ABE MITCHELL

Forewarned is forearmed, they say, and I think it is very significant that the announcement that a big team of American amateur golfers are to come over next spring to play in the championship at Hoylake has caused satisfaction rather than dismay. As I have said in previous articles British amateur golf at the present time is not tuned up to the pre-war pitch, but rivalry, particularly of an international character is a wonderful stimulant and it is a stimulant that is now required. There is no lack of fine golfing talent, but perhaps through unconscious slackness it is wanting in verve as well as consistency.

We have no Hiltons today and, to a very large extent this is due to the fact that we have no specialists, men who put golf above every other consideration and whose one ambition is to excel in the game. There are, of course, many players with all the freedom and leisure necessary for practice but it always strikes one that they go out to play for the fun of the game rather than for the serious purpose of improving their shots. This is, of course, a phase common in British sports and pastimes and probably athletics generally are none the worse for it. But this is the day of the specialist and the player who will not be bothered to specialise cannot hope to achieve the proficiency attained by more serious-minded rivals.

HOW TO PRACTICE

Practice! The amateur dislikes to go out with a single club and play shots for the hour with it but it is on these lines that perfection lies. I am told their Mr. Hilton still holds that you get more benefit from playing alone than in a match and that his method for preparing for the Championship at Muirfield this year was to play nine holes or so with two balls. This, I think, is a very good method of practising for it means that you have two shots very similar in character at each hole and that if the first is not pleasing you have the opportunity to correct any faults. It is a curious fact that when an amateur goes out to play alone in practice he usually takes with him his favorite club, the club indeed which inspires most confidence. I have often noticed this and failed to understand the purpose of the practice. Surely it is the club which gives most trouble that one should practice with, or again try over those shots which frequently occur in a match that are liable to go wrong. Fancy a professional going out to take part in an important match when he is not driving well! Before he struck a ball he would despair of his chances. In this he leaves the present day amateur far behind—not in length so much as in accuracy. On the whole the first-class amateur drives extremely well, with this qualification, that the mishit usually creeps in to let him down. The professional, of course, occasionally gets off the course, but on the whole he is very much more reliable.

SCHOOL PRACTICE

I have, however, faith in the recuperative powers of British amateur golfers and at Hoylake next spring the man, or man, may arise to repel the invaders. The American, however, is a very formidable opponent. He is so thorough and downright in all he attempts. In a way he is handicapped through little golf being played except in the South under what are really holiday conditions during the winter months. But it must not be thought that he gives up the game during this time. There are golf schools, I am told, in large numbers and I understand that he attends these for regular practice. Possibly only a super-enthusiast can be satisfied by hitting a ball without seeing the proper result, but the mere fact that he handles a club regularly is valuable. He retains what we call touch which is most important, for if the touch is not there the clubs do not seem the same as when the hands feel them things of life

ST. JOHN'S TEAM PLAYS NANYANG THIS AFTERNOON

Second Game Between Best College Football Teams Is On Today

In a game which will practically decide the championship of the East China Intercollegiate Athletic Association football series Nanyang College will meet St. John's University this afternoon at the St. John's field. A record crowd is expected as the last time the two elevens tangled, on November 27, the result was a 1-1 tie. Neither team has been defeated this season.

The kick off this afternoon will be promptly at 2 o'clock with Mr. A. R. C. Fulton acting as referee and Messrs. J. H. Underwood and W. G. R. Murphy as linesmen.

The dope today would tend to favor the home eleven as the best that Nanyang could do on the Nanyang field was tie St. John's. On their own field the St. John's players are figured to have the slight edge although both teams are as evenly matched as could be.

Unusual interest is being manifested in the game today not only by college football followers but by Shanghai sport fans in general, for Alec Leslie is coaching the Nanyang eleven and the St. John's players are working under the direction of Willie Clifford.

The St .John's field is on Jessfield Road, in the rear of the University buildings.

INTERNATIONAL RIFLE MATCH IS WON BY AMERICAN TEAM; JAPANESE AND SWISS FOLLOW

Victory Of Last Year Is Repeated By Yankees With Score Of 278 But All-American Crew Loses To "The World," 1079 To 1051

Scoring 278 points the American team won the annual international rifle match held Sunday afternoon under the direction of the Shanghai Rifle Association. The Japanese were second, five points behind, and the Swiss team was third with a total of 266. The English, Portuguese, Irish, Scotch, Chinese, Scandinavian and French finished in the order named.

"WORLD" BEATS YANKEES

In the match arranged by Mr. A. M. Collaco and Dr. S. A. Ransom, in which the All-American team shot against twelve men representing as many different nationalities the Yankees fell shy 28 points of the score made by aggregation called "The World." The scores were : "The World," 1079; "The Americans," 1051. Incidentally 1079 is the score made by the Americans in the same competition a year ago.

The international match saw some classy shooting. R. K. Hykes, of the American team; C. Luthy, Swiss, and M. Conlon, Irish, scored possibles but the top score went to Luthy, the Swiss hitting for 97 points out of 100. He shot 50 at the 300-yards mark and 47 at the 400-yard range.

FIRST RANGE CLOSE

The American, Japanese, Swiss and Irish teams ran close at the first range with 145, 143, 142 and 137, respectively, while at the last range the Americans, Japanese and Swiss representatives showed their superiority. The Irish team scored but 114 at the 400-yard range.

Shooting with open sights, the French team finished last in the competition. The rest of the teams used the Aperture and Lymans sights.

The following summary gives the scores in the international match and in the competition between "The World" and "The Americans."

In The U. S. Court For China

United States of America vs. Homer Merrit Darke. Cause No. 1214 Sentence, Filed December 11, 1920.

SYLLABUS

1.—Evidence Circumstances.—In order to convict on circumstantial evidence the circumstances must be such as to exclude every other reasonable hypothesis.

2.—Id. Id. Rule Applied.—Where a Chinese is thrown overboard in the Yangtsze River at Hankow less than 150 feet from the river bank in the midst of about 50 sampans, and with a chance of swimming ashore notwithstanding rough weather such circumstances alone will not justify a finding that the victim was drowned.

3.—Assault.—One who seizes another without provocation and holds him over a ship rail from which he falls into the water is guilty of assault, "with intent to do bodily harm and without just cause and excuse."

Chauncey P. Holcomb, Esq., United States District Attorney for the prosecution.

Paul Myron Linebarger, Esq., for the defense.

LOBINGIER, J.

The accused, a cook in the United States Navy, serving on the ship Elcano is charged with the crime of Murder in that "on or about the 4th day of September, A. D. 1920, while the said ship was anchored in the Yangtsze River near the city of Hankow, China, within the jurisdiction of this Court did feloniously, unlawfully and wilfully, and with malice aforethought, assault by laying hands on and picking up and throwing overboard into the Yangtsze River and thereby causing the death of one Chang Tsu-tsao a citizen of China and by occupation a cobbler."

The accused was placed under arrest by the Naval authorities but subsequently, on the ground that they were without jurisdiction to try him for murder, they surrendered him to the civil authorities and this Court being established by the same sovereignty as the Naval courts has now exclusive jurisdiction. The offense is charged to have been committed "near the city of Hankow" and therefore presumably in the consular district of Hankow but the place of trial by this Court is not limited to the Consular District where the circumstances arose, even in civil cases, and the provision invoked by defendant's counsel is inapplicable to criminal cases. Later the accused waived any claim to trial at Hankow although the authorities offered to assist him in seeking witnesses there if desired.

CHINESE NOT FOUND

It appears that the Chinese in question had boarded the ship in order to collect some money due him and accosted the accused for that purpose. The latter then seized the Chinese and lifted him up, according to the Government's principal witness, over the ship's rail and dropped him into the river. According to the accused himself he held the Chinese inside the rail and the rocking of the ship caused him to let go. According to another witness the accused had said just previously that he would throw the Chinese overboard for twenty cents but the accused states that another sailor made a wager of that amount that the accused would not throw him overboard.

According to the prosecution's principal witness the spot where the victim fell was less than 150 feet from the shore and there were about 50 sampans abreast of the ship. No witness is produced who saw what became of the victim. When the same witness looked over the rail the Chinese was not visible and no trace of him was found. A boat was lowered a couple of hours later and the river dragged. The weather was stormy and the water rough, but the same witness expressed the opinion that a good swimmer could have reached the shore.

There is, consequently, no direct evidence of the victim's death. Any finding to that effect must be based upon evidence that is purely circumstantial. Now circumstantial evidence will support a finding of death but the circumstances must be such as to exclude every other reasonable hypothesis. Can we find that it is not a reasonable hypothesis that the victim might have succeeded in swimming 150 feet or have been rescued by a sampan boatman? In view of the prosecution's evidence just mentioned we do not think we would be justified in so finding. We may believe such a result improbable and surmise that it did not occur but the corpus delicti can not be proved either by probabilities or surmises.

DEATH UNPROVED

If we are unable to find from the evidence that the victim is dead, the accused can not of course be convicted of murder, but it does not follow that there can be no conviction of a lesser crime. By defendant's own admission he is guilty of an assault. The Chinese was on the ship for a lawful purpose and was conducting himself peaceably and properly. Without any suggestion of provocation the accused seized him and held him in a dangerous position several minutes. Whether he was held over the rail or inside of it the situation while the ship was tossing in the storm was a perilous one. And while the accused does not appear to have been impelled by a murderous motive and had no occasion for malice toward the victim he had been drinking the night before and was wholly reckless in what he did. We must therefore find him guilty of assault "with intent to do bodily harm and without just cause or excuse." He is accordingly sentenced to a term of imprisonment for two years to date from his incarceration by the Naval authorities on September 4, the unexpired portion to be served in Bilibid Prison, Manila, Territory of the Philippines, as soon as the accused can be transferred there and to pay a fine of five hundred Dollars United States currency and the cost of this prosecution.

By the Court,
C. S. Lobinger,
Judge

Oxford Wins From Cambridge Eleven

(Reuter's Service)

London, Dec. 11.—Oxford University, following up their success against Cambridge in the Rugby match last week, defeated Cambridge under Association rules at the Queens' Club today, by 2 goals to 1.

The cross-country running event between these Universities was also decided today, and resulted in a win for Oxford by 21 points to 34. The first three men home were: Montague (Oxford) whose time was 42 minutes 56 seconds; McInnes (Oxford), 43 minutes 5 seconds, and Seagrove (Cambridge), 43 minutes 37 seconds.

SICKLY BABIES

Sickly babies—little ones who are troubled with their stomachs and bowels, whose teething is painful, digestion bad, and who cannot sleep well—may be made healthy and happy by Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian children's remedy.

Mrs. Wilfred Damons, of Val Brilliant, Quebec, writes:—"Please send me a vial of Baby's Own Tablets as I would not care to be without them. I have used them for constipation and vomiting and am well pleased with the result."

The Tablets are recommended also as a remedy for worms, and to break up simple colds and fevers. Obtainable from medicine dealers, also at 60 cents the vial, post free, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

INDOOR REVOLVER SHOOT FOR TITLE OF 1920 IS OPEN

Competitors Are To Be Allowed Use Of Arms Over 22 Caliber

The annual Shanghai revolver championship for any revolver or automatic pistol over the .22 caliber will be held during the month of December by the Shanghai Miniature Rifle and Revolver Club at the range, Siccawei Road and Route de Say Zoong.

The competition offers an excellent opportunity for all persons interested in this useful sport to show their skill and it has been arranged for competitors to use the range for practice daily.

Record targets may be fired off any day during the month. Fifty shots are to be fired at a standard American target at a distance of 20 yards. The entry fee is one dollar and one re-entry is allowed.

A gold medal will be awarded the winner with silver medals for second and third prizes. The winner will be transferred to the championship class in future annual all-comers' competitions. If a member of the championship class wins the competition, a gold bar will be awarded.

American Invasion Incentive To Golfers Who Play For Britain

and strength. I do not forget when I came back from the war and began to play again. All my clubs were dead to my touch and without spring. They also seemed, too, light. The explanation of course was that one had lost some of the power of the fingers and I remember how fiercely I gripped through a fear that I could not control the club properly. I have noticed that I usually play my best when all the clubs seem heavy. I like to be conscious of the weight of the club all through the swing but there are days when it seems as light as a fishing-rod. On those days I am driving badly. It is evident that the muscles are out of tune otherwise this feeling would not be experienced. It is remarkable how soon one gets out of sympathy with a club even when it is in constant use and the recent scientific pronouncement that the palms of the hands were peculiarly sensitive was something even less than half a secret to the golfer.

HONORS ARE EVEN

Honors are easy between British and American amateur golf. Mr. Walter Travis won the British Cup at Sandwich in 1904 and Mr. Hilton gained the American trophy at Apawanis in 1911. Those are the only occasions on which domestic harmony has been broken by the intervention of a "foreigner." It would have been bad enough if the attack at Hoylake had been delivered by Evans, Ouimet and Jones, but we now learn that a full score of Americans are to come over. Mr. Robert Gardner did not visit us this year as America's chief performer though he is an ex-champion, but he came desperate near winning. I was told the other day that those who saw Mr. Tolley's shot to the 37th hole at Muirfield were very much alarmed that the apparent cut on the ball would cause it to run into the bunker on the right and that they were amazed on reaching the green to find the ball dead in line with the pin and only about four yards off. The explanation I understand for this seeming curiosity was that the ball on bounging got a fortuitous kick and actually straightened out. But this incident apart it was very close shave and next year at Hoylake we may entertain another Gardner unawares.

Evans, Ouimet and Jones will, of course, be the competitors most to be feared. I am not familiar with the golf of the two last named but I know the play of Evans very well and I do not think that at the present time we have an amateur who could hold his own with him. But critical as the position may be America has still to win the Cup and if the weather at Hoylake should be up to the usual championship standard the howling wind might well put the stoutest player off his game.

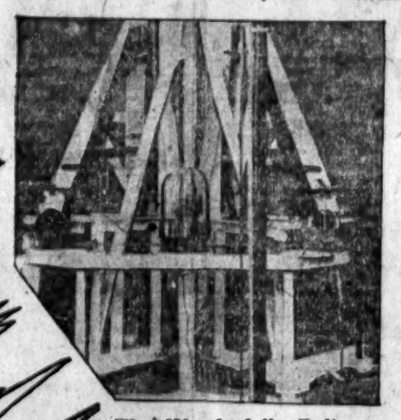
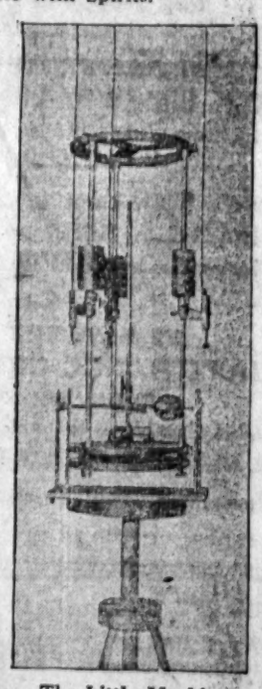
Mr. Edison's Instrument to Talk With the Dead

And Why the Great Inventor Believes the First Messages Will Come from the Spirits of Scientists Who Have Learned How to Use His Machine

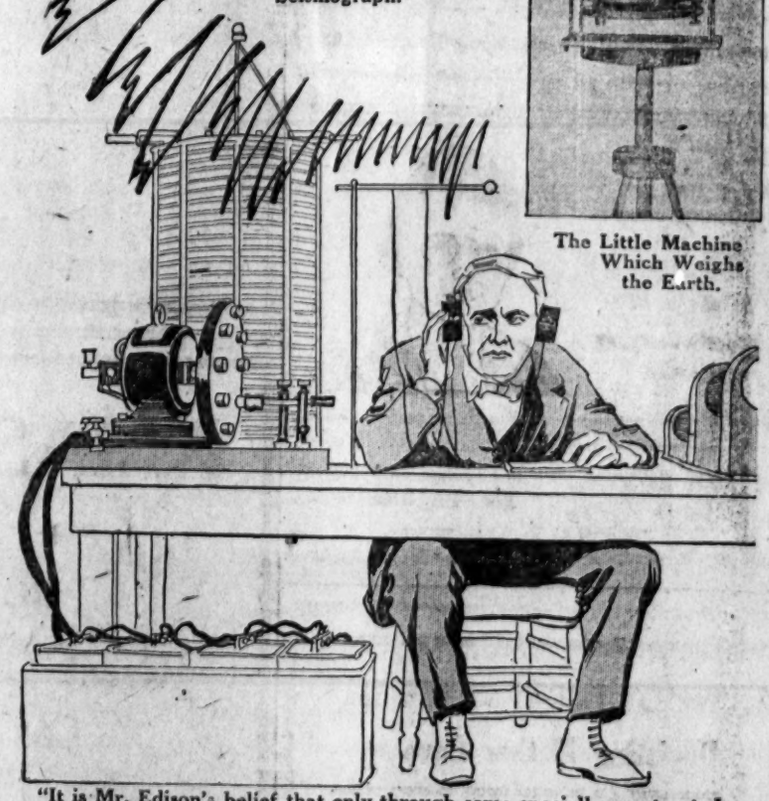
Photograph of a Medium's Seance Which Mr. Edison Thinks Is an Unscientific and Absurd Way to Communicate with Spirits.



The Wonderfully Delicate Seismograph.



The Little Machine Which Weighs the Earth.



"It is Mr. Edison's belief that only through some specially constructed scientific instrument will a message ever come from the realms of the departed."

DO the dead live in a world beyond the grave?

If so, is it possible for those in the spirit world to communicate with those left behind them on this earth? Just as communication between distant points on our earth is a matter of delicately constructed instruments, so also communication from the spirit world to our own earth must be accomplished through scientifically constructed instruments of even greater ingenuity and much more minute delicacy than the telegraph, the telephone or the wireless apparatus.

This is the belief of Thomas A. Edison, the foremost inventor of modern times, who has recently stated that the problem of receiving messages from the dead is a problem of pure science, and that he is endeavoring to perfect an apparatus which will make it possible to record messages from the spirit world if there are any spirits and if they desire to communicate with us. It is Mr. Edison's belief that only through some specially constructed scientific instrument will a message ever come from the realms of the departed, and that it will be from some spirit of a dead scientist—some wireless expert or telegraph expert or physicist—that the first messages will come.

The present method of receiving pretended messages from the dead through so-called spiritualistic "mediums" Mr. Edison regards as absurd. Some of these mediums are barefaced frauds, of course, but he thinks that many of them are self-hypnotized enthusiasts who really believe that they are in touch with the spirit world. The appliances of the "mediums" are clumsy, unscientific and worthless. No message from spirit land can ever come through such childish paraphernalia, he asserts.

If Mr. Marconi or Mr. Edison himself were shipwrecked on a desert island in the middle of the Pacific Ocean it would be futile to try to establish wireless connection with some schoolboy outfit in a backyard in San Francisco. But it might be possible, with great patience and skill to attract the attention of one of the great, high-power, delicately constructed wireless stations of the navy.

And so it is with a disembodied spirit in the world beyond the grave who might be seeking to attract the attention of mankind on earth. He would have to overcome tremendous difficulties, no doubt, and would be utterly helpless in trying to apply his scientific knowledge through any of the clumsy, puerile equipment of the enthusiastic but ignorant spiritualistic "medium." But he might be able to make use of waves of ether or other forces in the universe if Mr. Edison succeeds in setting up an instrument which would register calls from such a source. And this is the task which Mr. Edison has now set his genius to work at.

Already science has undertaken tasks of incredible delicacy which are in some respects not unlike the problem which Mr. Edison has before him. The heat of a candle has been measured miles away. The heat of the most distant stars has been recorded. Not only this, but "young stars" are now distinguished from "old stars" by instruments of marvelous delicacy. Everybody knows that the slightest earth tremor on the other side of our globe is recorded by the curious little instrument called the seismograph. In the Massachusetts Institute of Techonology laboratory is a little machine in which it is possible to weigh the earth, and just as the war was coming to an end an American scientist developed an instrument which would give notice of the approach of a man in the darkest night—an instrument so delicate that the moment a soldier stuck his head above a trench hundreds of feet away across No Man's Land the heat radiated from his face gave a signal instantly.

But, of course, these various instruments are of no value to a person who does not understand them or who has not been trained in the use of them. If the average lawyer, doctor or clergyman or business man stepped into a telegraph office while the operator was absent it would be impossible for him to make use of the instruments to send a message over the wire. And similarly Mr. Edison believes that it is highly unlikely that anybody not technically trained will be able to make use of the forces of nature and the instruments for controlling them after he has passed into the world beyond the grave.

If there is to be any communication from the dead it must be assumed that the departed still retain at least the faculty of memory in the next world. If there are spirits and they have memory and wish to communicate with those left behind, it will be a valuable thing for those who pass into the next world to carry with them full knowledge of the instrument which Mr. Edison hopes to perfect. Thus a distinguished scientist like Mr. Edison himself, upon reaching his spirit abode, would be perfectly familiar with the qualities of the instrument and would know what forces were necessary to set in motion to operate the recording apparatus of the machine.

The wonderful new invention—as yet unnamed—which enables us to see in the dark, to detect by their bodily heat alone the presence of bodies or objects which are entirely invisible to the naked eyes, was developed by Samuel O. Hoffman, formerly of the Science and Research Division of the United States Army. It rendered effective service during the closing weeks of the great war, and if it had been perfected earlier it would undoubtedly have played a leading part in the defeat of Germany. A means of locating troops, trenches, artillery, etc., available to one side alone, would have given that side a preponderant advantage in the war.

As has long been known, every object emits a large quantity of radiation, only a small part of which affects the eye. This radiation is the ordinary dark heat, such as is felt on bringing the cold hand an inch or so in front of the face. While of the same general nature as light, it has quite different properties. Hardly any substances are transparent to it, rock salt being the only one easily obtainable. Glass is particularly opaque, so that ordinary optical instruments are useless. However, sharp images can be easily formed by using concave mirrors of ordinary dimensions, as the actual wave-length of this radiation is sufficiently small (1/2500 inch) to obviate trouble from diffraction.

The apparatus consists of a concave mirror mounted on a tripod. This mirror concentrates the object's infra-red radiation on the blackened surface of a thermopile, consisting of minute wires of bismuth and silver soldered together. This blackened junction becomes slightly heated as the radiation is concentrated on it. The resulting electrical current, flowing through a galvanometer mounted on another tripod, indicates the presence of "something warm."

Mr. Edison is not yet ready to divulge the details of his invention or reveal the exact principles involved in its operation. He has, however, said enough to lead to the belief that he plans to accomplish this modern miracle by means of a wonderful "spirit wireless"—an adaptation to communication between the world of the living and the world of the dead of the wireless telegraphy now in use on this earth.

Support of this view is given by Mr. Edison's expectation that the first spirits to avail themselves of the means of communication he will offer them will be men and women who, during their earthly careers as telegraphers or scientists, became expert in the use of delicate instruments and powerful electrical currents. It is also significant that he refers to the invention on which he is at work as an "apparatus"—the same term which would be used to describe a wireless telegraph outfit with its batteries, transmitters, receivers and lofty aerial towers.

Such a "spirit wireless" as Mr. Edison is now perfecting at his laboratories in Orange, N. J., will mark a new epoch in the history of mankind. Its establishment will settle for all time the question of the soul's immortality. If it proves that the dead do live on in a world beyond the grave and are able to communicate with us when supplied with suitable means, the "spirit wireless" will do away with the ouija boards, the slates, cabinets and trances of the mediums, and all the other crude, unsatisfactory methods now employed in the effort to pierce the veil of death.

Will the earth soon be dotted with "spirit wireless" stations where the dead may get in touch with us as readily as our living friends do over the telephone? Will the new invention, perhaps, enable us not only to hear the voices of the spirits, but to catch fleeting glimpses of their wraith-like forms?

These are questions which Mr. Edison may be answering any day now to the world's everlasting satisfaction.

If any one can solve this ages-old problem and give scientific confirmation to man's belief in immortality, surely it is Thomas A. Edison. In all his career he has seldom if ever attacked a problem that has proved too much for his genius. Although seventy-three years old he is still active in mind and body and able to work more hours at a stretch than most men in the prime of life.

How better could he crown his proud record of service to humanity than by perfecting a method by which the spirits of the dead can transmit whatever messages they may have for the living friends they have left behind?

Generals Arrested At Harbin When Word Of Newest Plot Leaks Out

Harbin, Dec. 11.—It is semi-officially stated that General Pao Kwei-ching, of Kirin, has ordered the Chinese authorities at Harbin to send back to Pogranichnaya Generals Siroboyarsky and Sokoloff who were arrested last week and are now held as prisoners here.

The local authorities declare they do not know the motive for the arrest of the Generals, as it was ordered and carried out by an officer from Mukden.

It is rumored, however, that the reason was General Siroboyarskys' alleged possession of documents concerning a reactionary plot at Harbin.

The report that the Generals were in possession of large sums of money is understood to have been greatly exaggerated.

Vladivostok, Dec. 11.—The report that the Chita Government had agreed to maintain the Vladivostok Assembly and recognise the autonomy of the Maritime Province turns out to have been unfounded. Consequently, the Mensheviks refuse to take part in the new Cabinet which M. Antonoff, Editor of The Red Flag, is attempting to form.

The Vladivostok Assembly is debating how the Maritime Province is to be governed, and what definite practical shape is to be given to the Assembly's resolution of the 6th instant on the subject of Vladivostok's relationship towards Chita.

Meanwhile, the Bolsheviks are keeping up an energetic campaign amongst the Peasants in favor of dissolution of the Vladivostok Assembly.

U.S. Business Mail To Make Air Jump

Postal Agency Here Will Despatch Six Sacks For Fast Delivery

Business mail for America via the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services ships is to be further sped on its way by the introduction of the airplane. This speeding up process will be called into play with the despatch of the next batch of mail by the Empress of Russia December 18.

Word received from the Department by U. S. Postmaster Everett authorises the making up of 600 pounds of business mail for air relay from Victoria, B. C. to Seattle, Washington. Mail is already being carried the other way between these two cities in order to place late matter on the C.P.O.S. boats outward bound.

This business air mail from Shanghai will be made up into six sacks to be directed to Seattle, San Francisco, Chicago, Philadelphia, New York and Boston. It will probably catch night trains out of Seattle for San Francisco and Omaha, speeding up delivery by at least 12 hours.

Postmaster Everett asks local business men who wish to take advantage of the plan to have their letters marked plainly "Victoria-Seattle Seaplane Service" and they must be deposited at the Post Office an hour ahead of regular mail closing time, or at the same time as the closing of the registered mail.

Joe Beckett Is Knocked Out By Moran In Second

(Reuter's Service)

London, December 10.—In the twenty-round heavyweight contest at the Albert Hall tonight, Frank Moran (America) knocked out Joe Beckett (England) in the second round.

London, Dec. 11.—In his contes against Frank Moran, at the Albert Hall last night, Joe Beckett did well in the first round, getting home with the right to the jaw and ribs, and with left hooks to the head. Moran got in a right to the body, but later missed a right swing, and took a left hook to the jaw.

In the second round the exchanges were fairly even. Moran was warned for holding. Then, in some in-fighting, Moran landed terrific right upper-cuts to the point, knocking out his opponent.

MEX COMES BACK TO GOOD STANDING AT POST OFFICE

United States Surcharged Stamps Again On Sale As Exchange Rises

Evidently the barons who sway exchange in Shanghai haven't yet got off all their Christmas presents to the States.

At all events, gold exchange fell again below the 200 mark yesterday and U. S. surcharged postage stamps, withdrawn on Saturday, were placed on sale once more at 4 cents Mex. by the U. S. Post Office. They will remain on sale until gold exchange hops to the two-for-one level again.

There were strenuous kicks from a few stamp purchasers who came in while the surcharged stickers were unavailable, but, as there is no mail out until the 18th sales were light and post office employes' nerves and tempers remain intact.

One purchaser, who had no U. S. currency about him, solved the difficulty by purchasing a postal money order issued to himself, buying it with local currency and cashing it for gold.

Postmaster Everett scouts the idea that the rise in gold exchange was the result of philanthropic lapse on the part of the rulers of exchange, they wishing to see that all 'the kiddies' orders to Santa Claus get away at preferred rates. The exchange manipulators, according to the postmaster, are just mean enough to wait until the morning of mail closing day and then make it necessary for him to get out the placards and begin turning down Mex. money for stamps.

Communication Conferees Deadlocked On Disposal Of Former German Cables

(Reuter's Service)

London, December 11.—The Washington correspondent of the Daily Telegraph states that a deadlock has been reached between America and Japan regarding the control of the cable station at Yap Island, Japan absolutely insisting on retaining German cables in the Pacific, while the American naval authorities are opposed to the relinquishment of Yap on strategic grounds.

Washington, December 10.—It is announced that the State Department and Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate are co-operating to obtain recognition for the United States in the distribution of ex-German cables. Senator Lodge, chairman of the Senate committee, stated that the Committee had given its unqualified approval to the stand taken by America in the International Communications Conference.

CONFEREES DEADLOCKED

Washington, Dec. 11.—The Communications Conference has practically arrived at a deadlock on the subject of the distribution of submarine cables, and may adjourn, in order to enable the representatives to return and consult their respective Governments. The United States, Great Britain and Italy supported, while France and Japan opposed, a proposal for the joint ownership of ex-German cables, instead of their distribution among the five Powers.

The French and Japanese delegates also opposed the internationalisation of islands like Yap (in the Carolines) which are centers of communications. It is stated that an American proposal for the allocation of the cable from Guam to Yap to the United States, that between Yap and the Dutch Indies to Holland, and the one from Yap to Shanghai to Japan, met with opposition from the Japanese, who claimed that Japan was entitled to the retention of at least half the interest in the Guam-Yap and Yap-Dutch Indies cables.

FRANCE OPPOSED

France is making determined opposition against an American proposal to divert the Azores cable to Genoa, and to divide it between the United States and Italy.

As regards the Halifax-Penzance cable, Great Britain has already acceded to the desire of the United States to restore the New York-Emden connection, in consideration of the transfer to Great Britain of one of the American transatlantic cables between England and Canada.

The Americans are also opposing Great Britain's alleged desire permanently to control the German cables she is now working. Mr. Davis, the Acting Secretary for State, has laid the whole question before the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate.

Rumanian Outrage In Senate Confirmed

(French Wireless Service)

Paris, December 11.—A Bukharest telegram states that a bomb exploded in the Rumanian Senate on the 9th instant, killing M. Radou and wounding the Minister of Justice and General Coanda, President of the Senate.

Arnold's New Office To Open In January

American Legation Attache To Co-operate With Firms In Shanghai

Mr. Julean Arnold, Commercial Attache of the American Legation, said yesterday that the Shanghai office that he will shortly open will be located in the building of the Chinese-American Bank of Commerce, as space is not at present available for the office at the American consulate.

Mr. Arnold will leave for Peking on Sunday and will return after the holidays. He will open the new office the first week in the new year. Miss Viola Smith, the first woman who has been sent abroad on service by the American Department of Commerce, is to take the position of secretary to Mr. Arnold.

The purpose of the new office will be to bring about closer co-operation with American commercial interests in Shanghai, China's leading commercial port, and the work done will be allied with that of Dr. Frederick Lee, who came to Shanghai recently to take the new post of economist consul.

It is intended in time to combine Mr. Arnold's office with that of the American Chamber of Commerce, through the representations of which the office to be opened was brought to Shanghai.

Mr. Arnold visited the American School yesterday morning where he gave an address on the subject "Why We Should Know China."

Constantine Ready For Athens Journey

(French Wireless Service)

Athens, Dec. 12.—The return of ex-King Constantine to Athens is expected to take place next Sunday. Great festivities are being prepared for the occasion.

Paris, December 11.—Writing in the Revue Politique et Parlementaire General Sarrail, former Commander-in-chief of the Allied army of the East, contributes some startling revelations of the part played by Constantine during the war. The General furnishes details of an attempt by the ex-King of Greece to bring about the desertion en masse of the Greek Armies in July 1918.

Paris, Dec. 12.—The Greek Government's invitation to Constantine prohibits the return of M. Street (?) the notorious pro-German ex-Foreign Minister, who is remaining at Lucerne.

Opium Offenders Get Jail Sentences

Charged with running a Hwo Wei lottery and maintaining an opium smoking den at 225 Seward Road, three Chinese were sentenced to a month's imprisonment each by the Mixed Court yesterday.

On Sunday Detective Sergeant McDermott, after negotiating the purchase with a marked bill of opium in a shop at 733 North Chekiang Road, searched the premises and found 35 small packets and three tins of opium. The woman operating the shop, who claimed that the drug was for her own personal use, was given a month's jail sentence by the Mixed Court yesterday.

Breach Of Contract Basis Of New Suit In American Court

Suit to recover the sum of Taels 2,000 was filed yesterday in the United States Court for China by the Kwang Yuen Dye Company against the Stewart Grane Company. The action is based upon an alleged breach of contract.

The plaintiff is a Chinese company and it sets forth in its petition that on October 4 last it entered into a contract with the defendant concern for the purchase of 500 pounds of Malachite green valued at Gold $2,400. The petition alleges that by the terms of a supplementary contract it was specified particularly that the material purchased was to be delivered within sixty days.

The plaintiff company alleges that on the strength of the contract it had re-sold the material purchased, but had been unable to consummate this sale as the plaintiff had failed to make delivery as agreed.

Bostock's Circus

With Maximo "drunker than ever on the wire" and the Anglo-Chinese trio contributing a great balancing act as two of the headline acts, Bostock's Circus, now playing at the Chang Su Ho Gardens, is drawing consistently large audiences. The program is well-balanced and is an excellent and diverting entertainment. The management, by making special arrangements for heating, has made the tent really comfortable. The circus should enjoy a long stay here.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells, which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying power, are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them wilfully with narcotics. Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"Your preparation known as Castoria I have used for years in children's complaints and I have found nothing better."
JOHN J. LIPPA, M. D., Cleveland, Ohio.

"I have prescribed your Castoria in my own household with good results, and have advised several patients to use it for its mild, laxative effect and freedom from harm."
EDWARD FARRIS, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"For several years I recommended your Castoria and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results."
EDWIN F. PARDEE, M. D., New York City.

"Your Castoria is a meritorious household remedy. It is purely vegetable and acts as a mild cathartic. Above all, it does no harm, which is more than can be said of the great majority of children's remedies."
VICTOR H. COFFMAN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"Your Castoria holds the esteem of the medical profession in a manner held by no other proprietary preparation. It is a sane and reliable medicine for infants and children. In fact it is the universal household remedy for infantile ailments."

Community Church Notes

On Thursday afternoon, instead of Wednesday, as previously announced, the morning session, or the American Sunday School of the Union Church will hold its Christmas entertainment in the Church Chapel at five o'clock.

The program is varied, but is well flavored with the "back home" festival spirit. Each department of the school will participate. The very little folks have songs and recitations. Dr. Henry Van Dyke's famous Christmas story, "The Other Wise Man" will be given in pantomime by the older girls. A song by the American School Glee Club, followed by a short talk by Dr. Freeman, will bring the program to curiosity filled suspense just prior to the arrival of Santa Claus, who will distribute to each pupil a box of candy. A most hearty invitation is extended to all parents and friends of the school to enjoy this gala period with the young folks.

At the first morning session of the Community Church, held Sunday in the Columbia Club there was an audience of about 80 people. Great pleasure was expressed in having the Community Church make available this service in the Western District.

Does 101 Things

MILTON

What is MILTON? It is a powerful yet harmless, waterwhite fluid. It cannot be called a disinfectant, or a cleanser, or a purifier, because it is all three combined and much besides. There is no term wide enough in its meaning to describe MILTON. And there is nothing in existence with which to compare it.

You will understand this if you use MILTON.

Everything we say it will do, it does thoroughly well.

MILTON takes the place of a dozen or more preparations in general use. More effective than carbolic acid, more useful than soap, yet safe and wholesome as water. It cannot take fire and will not burn or stain the skin.

In every home, in every factory and public office, uses crop up hourly for Milton. That is why if it is bought once you will never be without it.

MILTON is extensively used in sanatoria, hospitals, etc., and is warmly approved by the medical profession.

Give MILTON a trial. Go to your dealer and get a bottle today.

THOUSANDS of families look up to MILTON as a tower of strength in the home. Do you want a safe, efficient protection against disease germs? MILTON kills germs swiftly and surely wherever it comes in contact with them, yet is perfectly harmless to human and animal life. Use it as a mouth-wash, gargle or nasal spray, to guard against coughs, colds, sore throats and influenza.

Would you like to have a powerful, harmless antiseptic for first-aid treatment of burns, bruises, cuts and abrasions of the skin? MILTON disinfects wounds, soothes the pain caused by them, helps nature heal, yet will not injure even baby's tender skin.

Have you been smothering one bad odor with some chemical that merely substitutes another odor? MILTON promptly destroys disagreeable smells; its own slight odor vanishes almost immedately.

MILTON is just "MILTON"

MILTON is just "MILTON." No other word describes it. MILTON is a combined germicide, antiseptic, sterilizer, deodorizer, stain-remover, bleach and more; yet does not burn, stain, poison or leave an odor. It is absolutely safe. It is economical for two big reasons:—you will use it greatly diluted for most of its many purposes; you will use it to do a hundred and one things.

TIBETAN FURS

To the Ladies and Daughters of the Foreign Community of China. I take off my hat and send you Greetings. I thank you Heartily for the remittances which you have sent me, in payment for Tibetan Foxskins which you have ordered.

Some of you have been impatient, because Tibetan Foxskins have not reached you soon enough—to which I can only say I am located more than 2,000 miles distant from Shanghai and that it takes about two months before you can expect a reply from me. To the numerous Customers who have appreciated the Tibetan Foxskins, which I have sent them, and have promised to show them to their friends, I can only thank you for the kind support you are giving me, and always assure you of my very best efforts on your behalf.

The Tibetan Foxskin has made a hit, and no wonder—such wonderful large pelts—such downy fur and over-hair of exquisite fineness and beauty. Send Postal Money Order for $25.00 cost of one Tibetan Foxskin, and you'll get what you ask for.

KINGMAN & BROS.
How to Preserve the Teeth

In order to keep the teeth in a good condition scientific precaution must be taken. Through negligence, decay and numerous other affections such as tooth-ache, dental periostitis esteo-periostitis, necrosis of the jaw, etc., may arise. During the process of ingestion, there are settled on the teeth, some deposits of mineral and organic matters, called tartar, which possesses a morbid power of pressing the gum. As an inevitable result of the presence of this tartar, the teeth will become elongated and movable and will, by degrees, absorb away the enamel, leading ultimately to the decay and degeneration of the teeth. The tartar is so hard and resistant to the process of brushing that it cannot be scraped off except with dental instruments specially devised for that purpose.

Dr. KINGMAN offers to the public his service for preserving their teeth at an annual subscription Fee of $10.00 per head to be paid in advance.

The work to be done by Dr. KINGMAN to the subscribers consists in:—
(1) Cleaning of the teeth quarterly
(2) Filing with gold platinum alloy only, when the teeth present holes.
(3) Inspecting the teeth at any time at the desire of the subscribers.

Compagnie Francaise de Tramways et D'Eclairage Electriques de Shanghai
WATERWORKS DEPARTMENT

NOTICE

The Company wishes to draw the attention of Consumers to the following points:

1. METERS. It is necessary during the winter season to protect the meter from frost not only to avoid damage to this apparatus but also to provide against interruptions of the water supply to the house. This can be done by filling the box containing the meter with straw.
2. STOP-COCKS. Many old installations do not possess stop-cocks, and in case a pipe bursts whether from the water freezing or from any other cause, it is impossible to stop the flooding of the house until the arrival of the Company's employees to cut off the water which may often be delayed if there should be many such accidents at the same time.
   With a stop-cock, all that need be done is to close it in order to stop all passage of water.
   The Company earnestly advises Consumers to see that their house piping is provided immediately with a stop-cock after the meter.
3. PREVENTION OF ACCIDENTS CAUSED BY FROST.
   DRAIN COCK
   Every good installation should possess at its lowest part a drain-cock which, when opened after the closing of the stop-cock, will carry away all the water contained in the pipes of the house.
   If this operation were put into practice every night, all risk of accident would be avoided.
   This measure will, however, evidently not be efficacious unless the distribution of the piping has been judiciously established so that there does not exist any lodgement where water could remain in spite of the opening of the drain-cock.
   In giving this advice to Consumers, the Company, which does not undertake any private installations, wishes it to be well understood that it assumes no responsibility for any accidents whatever which might happen although the stop-cock should have been closed and the drain cock opened.

Brunner, Mond Reorganises As China Company

A private Company called Brunner, Mond and Co. (China) Limited has recently been registered at Shanghai as a China Company under the Hongkong Companies Ordinance of 1911.

The Company has been formed for the purpose of taking over as a going concern the assets and good will of the business hitherto carried on in the Republic of China and adjoining territories by Brunner, Mond and Co. Limited, Northwich, England.

The nominal capital of the Company is Shanghai $2,000,000 divided into 20,000 fully paid up shares of $100.00 each. The Directors of the Company are as follows:

Messrs. Percy Fowler of Shanghi
G. Stewart Jones „ „
H. G. Allen „ „
H. Y. Irwine „ „
M. Reader Harris „ „
J. G. Nicholson Hartford, England

Messrs. Fowler, Stewart Jones, Allen and Irwine have been appointed managing directors, and Mr. Percy Fowler is Chairman of the directors. Mr. Stewart Jones, in addition to acting in the capacity already mentioned, will be the secretary and legal adviser of the Company.

The Company will act as sole agents in China for the:

British Dyestuffs Corporation, Ltd.
Borax Consolidated.
Messrs. Castner-Kellner Alkali Co. Ltd.
Messrs. Chance and Hunt, Ltd.
The Mond Nickel Co. Ltd.
The United Alkali Co. Ltd.

The Company is at the moment negotiating for further agencies from Home manufacturers of heavy chemicals with a view to placing the Company in a pre-eminent position for the supply of heavy chemicals in China.

LONDON TRADE ON THE UPGRADE

Inauguration Of Winter Business With Strike Cessation Combine To Aid Markets

Tokio, November 17.—Trade generally has become a little more active in Great Britain and money is in better request in Lombard Street, says a weekly financial cable received at the Bank of Japan, partially on the inauguration of Winter business and partially because the cessation of the coal miners' strike has relieved industrial circles of their anxiety. The street is in a slightly harder mood.

DAY TO DAY MONEY

Day to day money is quoted at 5 percent per annum to 5¼ per percent per annum. Weekly call loans are quoted at 5½ percent per annum. Three months' bill are discounted at 6¾ percent per annum. The Bank of England's specie reserve was increased by 61,000 pounds. The reserve ratio is 106 percent.

Foreign exchange shows again a striking fluctuation, speculation being actively conducted in foreign money on the occasion of the heavily increasing importation of grains from the United States into Europe. The Anglo-American cross rate which dropped to $3.33 November 9 has recovered to $3.38. The Anglo-French cross rate is up to 53.50 francs. Exchange on Rome is quoted at 99 lire. The Anglo-German rate is up to 295 marks.

OCT. FOREIGN COMMERCE

October's foreign commerce of the United Kingdom reached 149,889,000 pounds for imports and 128,449,000 pounds for exports. Evidently the coal miners' strike produced not much effect upon the country's external trade. The decrease in the export of coal from September was only 500,000 pounds. The index number of October was the lowest since November last year although it was still 16 percent above the index number for the month in which the armistice was signed. Among the principal commodities that contributed most to the decline in index number were textiles. Grains and meat were somewhat higher.

FINANCES OF BOTH NATIONS

In London leading business men interested in China and trade with the country have held a conference to promote the project just made to establish the "Anglo-China Industrial Development Company" the main function of which is to exploit China's resources and promote industries in the Oriental republic. The projected corporation is to be capitalised at 240,000 pounds jointly by Chinese and British businessmen and financiers.

An executive committee has been nominated by the conference to push forward the project. Of this committee are such men as Sir Jamis Komnal of Babcock and Wilck and others. The Chinese Government is stated to have given its permission for the founding of such an organisation.

FURS

GREAT REDUCTION IN PRICE

Our strong desire is to extend our business. During the early part of this season many of our branches throughout the Northern parts of China and Manchuria, and elsewhere, have been searching for valuable furs. We have now made these into dresses, muffs, rugs, and other suitable articles for presents. We have also different coloured skins for the trimming of dresses, also a great deal of the finest fox, ermines, white bear skin and tiger skins. All these are on exhibition in our store. "Christmas" will soon be here. Our manager has put an advertisement in all the leading newspapers to inform all our old and new customers that all prices have been greatly reduced. You will be welcome at all times.

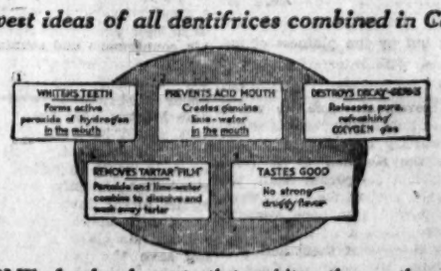
Five Dentifrice Features in One

(Newest ideas of all dentifrices combined in Calox



WHITENS TEETH
Forms active peroxide of hydrogen in the mouth
PREVENTS ACID MOUTH
Creates genuine lime-water in the mouth
DESTROYS DECAY-GERMS
Releases pure, refreshing OXYGEN gas
REMOVES TARTAR FILM
Peroxide and lime-water combine to dissolve and wash away tartar
TASTES GOOD
No strong, druggy flavor

SOME of us brush our teeth to whiten them; others to prevent decay and still others to refresh the mouth. Many believe they have acid-mouth or wish to remove the "crust of tartar" which is forming.

Regardless of why you brush your teeth, study the chart above and decide whether the dentifrice you are now trying will do or is doing all that you can reasonably expect from a dentifrice.

If it is, continue to use it faithfully. If it is good for only one of the duties of a good dentifrice, you had better try McK & R Calox, which combines in one dentifrice most of the features of all modern dentifrices.

If you haven't heard the story of McK & R Calox—how it forms real lime-water in your mouth to prevent acids—how it creates fresh active peroxide on the teeth every time you brush them—how it releases genuine oxygen gas which penetrates into every crevice and "gasses" the dangerous decay-germs into harmlessness, if you don't know this story of the victory of modern science, send for "The McK & R Calox Story."

Your dentist will recommend McK & R Calox to you and your druggist has it. Try it next time you need a dentifrice.

The taste is a surprise to most people. It is not the least bit "druggy" which proves that it is possible to make a pleasant tasting dentifrice and that a "strong" taste does not prove the efficiency of any paste or powder.

Price 50 cts. per tin.

Colonel Mizumachi To The Missionaries

(Japan Advertiser)

THE gravity of Colonel Mizumachi's manifesto to the missionaries in Korea is apparent. It is a warning that unless they cooperate with the Japanese authorities there their work cannot go on. We thus come in sight of the possibility that the Christian missionaries in Korea might be obliged to withdraw. It is difficult to imagine a development which would give more satisfaction to the enemies of Japan, would seem more effectively to confirm the charges that have been made against Japanese methods of governing a subject people. Missionaries, says the plain-spoken Colonel, should not mix in politics. The first reflection that his communication suggests is that soldiers also should not mix in politics, for while the soldiers would naturally be relieved by the absence of witnesses whom they consider in the way, the political effects of such a movement would be incalculably injurious to every interest of Japan.

Colonel Mizumachi's statement falls into two parts. The first is an explanation and vindication of the methods of the punitive expedition. The second and more important is a criticism of the attitude of the missionaries, as it apears to him, and a warning of certain consequences which will ensue unless that attitude is changed. He charges the missionaries, not directly but by the plainest of implications, with interfering in politics and encouraging the independence movement. And he warns them that unless they "devote themselves strictly to religious works, educate the Koreans to be loyal subjects, and co-operate with the Japanese authorities. . . there will be hardly any hope for the future development of their work." He tells them that their action is jeopardising the good relations of the British and Japan, hints that the British Empire is vulnerable to retaliatory tactics in India, and makes a pungent comparison with the methods of ex-General Dyer at Amritsar. We ask therefore what the missionaries have done to deserve such a rebuke.

Readers of the Advertiser are aware of the answer. A number of missionaries, having visited the villages where punitive operations had been carried out, made statements tending to show that peaceable people had been killed, that property had been destroyed and lives sacrificed indiscriminately, and that even where there was some evidence of selection it was not of a kind that could justify any confidence that innocent people were safe. The missionaries made no complaint against the employment of rigorous methods against bandits and outlaws. They described the people awaiting the arrival of the Japanese troops with perfect confidence, believing that their intention was to punish the bandits who had attacked the consulate at Hunchun. The gravamen of their charge was that dreadful mistakes were being made, and that soldiers who were supposed to be engaged in the pursuit of bandits were killing harmless people for no apparent reason except that being Koreans living outside of the Korean territory they were presumably in sympathy with the independence movement. But suppose they were. Suppose they did subscribe to the Korean independence movement. It might be a very foolish and wrong use of their money, but it is within their rights. Colonel Mizumachi's letter is a frank effort to get the missionaries to put themselves in the place of the officials and realise the difficulties they experience in dealing with the independence movement. May we return the favor and ask Colonel Mizumachi to put himself in the place of the missionaries. They had obtained what they regarded as conclusive evidence of the slaughter of innocent people. Their charges were not lightly made. Several of the missionaries had had a very long experience in the country. The victims of this injustice were the people among whom they had been teaching and laboring for many years. Could they have done anything else but state the facts as they had found them? What would they have been but moral cowards if they had not come boldly out with the facts? If this is to be called meddling in politics and if it is to be made the basis of a threat that missionary work in Korea will be impeded by the authorities unless there is a change, what opinion will be formed by the world of the Japanese methods of rule? What opinion is possible but that Japan's colonial system, as exemplified in her greatest and most important dependency, is unable to stand the light of independent testimony? And to carry the inquiry into the political consequences of military blunders a step further, what is likely to be the effect upon Japan's world policy and world position?

Colonel Mizumachi's explanation of the methods of the expedition confirm what was said here the other day about the folly of employing against members of the Japanese national family methods that are only justifiable when dealing with savages. The punitive expedition went out with the clear idea that its duties were not to punish or disperse the guilty (that being impossible with the time and means at its disposal) but to strike such terror into the district that neither brigandage nor the independence movement would lift up its head again. The schools and churches that were burned were known to be "sinks of iniquity." Does this mean that they were frequented by supporters of the independence movement? The conditions of the operation did not allow of even courts-martial being held but there was a "simple trial" on the spot and the villagers were questioned. What rules were issued for the guidance of the officers who conducted those "simple trials" so that they might know that they were not committing murder? The witnesses whom the missionaries examined at Norabawie said that all that happened was that the people were ordered out of their houses and the younger men were shot. The bandits had fled and somebody must be "made an example of." Colonel Mizumachi takes credit to the Japanese troops that they did not engage in an indiscriminate massacre as Brigadier-General Dyer did at Amritsar. We have no intention to whitewash General Dyer, whose action we condemned at the time as inflicting a stain on the honor of the British army, but the circumstances were different. General Dyer acted in the belief that a great province was on the verge of a rebellion in which many of his countrymen and countrywomen would have perished. He had in his memory the unspeakable deeds that accompanied the Indian Mutiny. He knew that revolt would be followed by terrible punishment. His forces were a mere handful. He decided that his only course was to strike terror into the movement at an early stage. He did so and his friends claim that his action did save the province from the horrors of rebellion. But the Indian Government and the British Government and the Army Council thought otherwise and he was dismissed from the army. Where is the parallel in Chientao? Japan has overwhelming force and it is preposterous to suggest that Korea is on the verge of a revolt in which government is in danger of being overthrown and every Japanese in the country in danger of massacre. The task of stamping out brigandage and lawless conditions on an unsettled frontier is always one of difficulty but civilised countries have to face it without lowering their own standards.

FONG SING'S OLD WIFE

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Dear Sir.—I have read through the Christmas stories by Shanghai Children and the one by Paul Myron has appealed to me very much. As he is anxious for Fong Sing to regain his smile I should like to make a little suggestion. Why not hang Fong Sing's old wife on the Christmas tree or any other tree, for that matter.

Trusting that Fong Sing will profit by my advice, I remain,

Yours etc.

INSURANCE UP-TO-DATE

You can insure your ponies now, and more than one paper hunter will take advantage of the chance of seeing that his little pony will not be a complete loss should it come a cropper over one of the many jumps that Johnny Walker, and others, have in mind for the seekers after red coats.

We offer a few more suggestions after the same style. Burglary Policy. (For burglars only.) This policy provides, and at a very reasonable rate, for all burglars who, after forcing their way into a house, fail to find sufficient booty to repay them for the time and trouble, and are thus forced to come away empty handed, in which case, provided that the policy was taken out three days previously, the insurance company after estimating the loss, guarantee to make the same good.

Householders A. I. Policy. The Insurance Company guarantee to pay to all holders of the above policy the sum of $10,000 if the insured person succeeds in finding, by fair means or foul, an empty house within a five mile radius of the Settlement, the stipulated time for finding the same to be ten years following the commencing date of the policy.

The Pedestrians' Peril Policy. For a small premium our company will guarantee that you cannot walk from Watson's to the Race Course between the hours of noon, and noon-thirty, without getting it absolutely in the neck. Should you reach the Race Course in safety you will never live to claim the policy, as the speed limit changes, and we cannot take a double risk.

A pathetic story reaches us from Brixton. A builder's laborer finding that he had laid half a dozen bricks too many according to Union Rules, went out for a wet night and tried to get drunk on 2.75 beer, but blew up while still sober.

Receiving a well deserved thick ear from his wife, a miner yesterday took the first train for her old home and assaulted her mother who was a confirmed invalid, exclaiming: "You were primarily responsible for this." It took four policemen to take him to the station, but it would have taken fourteen to take him to his wife.

CAMOUFLAGE!

A Paris furniture dealer says that women should furnish their homes with a view to showing off their particular style of beauty, and points out that colors and designs that would suit one female of the species would not suit another. Much in this direction has already been achieved on the stage. When the tall, slight Sir Henry Irving appeared as Napoleon in Madame Sans-Gene he succeeded admirably in conveying the impression that he possessed the short, squat, Napoleonic figure, by surrounding himself with high furniture and tall fellow-actors. Herein lies a hint for the abnormally tall girl, who would have the additional satisfaction, if her very dearest friend chanced to be small, of making that lady, when she called, seem positively insignificant.

CLEMENCEAU'S CLEMENCY

The unhappy relations between the Little Welsh Wizard and the Tiger during the Peace Conference have been ruthlessly exposed by Colonel Repington in his new book. But there is one amusing example which has not been recounted of the delight the Tiger took in pulling the Premier's leg. The Austrian question was to the fore at a conference, the Tiger was for more or less lenient treatment, but Mr. Lloyd George would have none of it. "The father of the Emperor Karl was one of the chief instigators of the war!" he exclaimed hotly. The official interpreter substituted "Grand-uncle" for "father," thus covering up the bloomer. M. Clemenceau, with his tongue in his cheek, knowing that Mr. Lloyd George did not appreciate his error or understand the correction owing to his limited French, interposed and remarked sweetly to the interpreter, "Surely you have not given a correct rendering of what the British Premier said?" whereupon that official had to explain the error, and M. Clemenceau was satisfied.

Job, Not Salary, Should Be First In Man's Mind

Determined, Conscientious Worker Need Not Worry Over Matter Of Remuneration

BY DR. WM. A. MCKEEVER

Professor in the University of Kansas and an Authority on Child Training

"Wanted—Ambitious young man to sell flour on the road. New territory. X. Y. Z. Milling Co."

Twelve years ago, in response to the foregoing ad, a certain young man appeared in person to claim the place.

"File your application and we will consider it, but we already have 250 to choose from," said the manager, with searching glance at the youthful caller.

"But I don't want you to consider my application. I want you to consider me. I know I can sell flour and am here to take the place."

"How much salary do you expect?" was the next shot from the would-be employer.

"That is up to you. It is the job I am after. Try me and you will know what I am worth."

"What are you earning at your present position?"

"Eighty dollars and expenses, but I want a better job."

"Well, we expect to start a young man on this new territory at $65 and expenses."

"That is all right with me. Start me out. I want to sell flour."

NO DISPUTE ABOUT SALARY

Now, let us leap ahead to the present time. This young man is still selling flour. His salary and commissions last year amounted to $7,500 and expenses. He has a wife, two children, a home and has a $20,000 building and loan stock well on the way to maturity.

Sixteen years ago I first met this young man, then a big green country boy, just entering college. When he began selling flour on the road he was so "new" at the game that he started his first telegram with "Dear Sirs." But somehow this boy measured up until today he is an illustration of the "salt of the earth."

Let us summarise the chief elements of success which seemed to cluster in this interesting young specimen of manhood and try to derive something of a standard of guidance for youths of today.

Straightforwardness. "I know I can sell flour. Don't consider my application. Consider me." "Here I am, send me," similarly cried an ancient Scriptural prophet.

Honesty. "The salary is up to you. Try me and you will know what I am worth." So he accepted a reduction of $15 in salary in order to obtain the job he most desired. There is something about the right job, young man, that is far greater than salary. It is a real hunger for the work. And yet, this very thing finally tends to multiply the income.

Fidelity. It was slow and discouraging at first. The salary never budged for the first five months. But the young "blunderer" never quit. At the end of three years, however, he discovered by accident that he was the firm's highest man on the road; meanwhile, many were called but few were chosen, while his place remained secure.

Now, young man, go and do likewise. The ingredients of success are all in you and they are almost too simple to enumerate. Be straightforward, honest, faithful and go to it, choosing the job rather than the salary.

Getting On ❁ By The Spectator

Mr. Jacob C. Ullery, of Brattleboro, Vt., has just published a little booklet entitled "On Getting On," which is full of sound advice. I cull from its pages the following ideas which may be interesting not only intrinsically but because of the names attached to them. For instance:

Ex-President Taft: "You cannot get on unless you work. The harder you work the more certain you are to get on.

Charles W. Eliot: "An effective life must be based on a good, sound serviceable body."

Nicholas Murray Butler: "I would ask three simple things of one who wants to get on, I would ask him to improve his speech, to improve his manners and to improve his standards of taste."

Herbert Hoover: "Go back to the simple life, be contented with simple food, simple pleasures, simple clothes."

J. Ogden Armour: "Enthusiasm is the dynamics of personality."

John D. Rockefeller: "When I was a boy of thirteen or fourteen I discovered it was a good thing to let money be my servant and not make myself a slave to money."

Ben B. Lindsey: "Sincerity and enthusiasm above all other qualities."

A. Mitchell Palmer: "Determine to make your dreams come true."

Thomas Nelson Page: "Getting on in the only sense worth talking about is wholly a matter of character."

Robert Lansing: "Optimism is the motive power of the successful life."

Hamlin Garland: "One of the fundamental laws of mental efficiency is concentration."

Lyman Abbott: "The whole wisdom of life lies simply in doing the thing that is right and letting God look after the consequences."

Henry Watterson: "To be kindly, honest, fearless, capable—that is all."

Charles M. Schwab: "A man will succeed in anything in which he is generally interested provided he will take more thought about his job than the men working with him."

John Wanamaker: "It was not setting type in a printing office that made Benjamin Franklin the envoy to foreign courts. It was his studies and his thinking."

Admiral Mayo: "The secret of getting on is loyalty to God, to country, to family and self."

Robert E. Peary: "If you do not learn to keep up your courage in spite of occasional failure you will not get far on the road to success."

George Ade: "Very often a slipshod product is marketable, but you must deliver good goods and keep on delivering if you expect to get into Class A and remain there."

David Belasco: "Application, wisely practised, develops a temperament which allows no obstacle to stand in one's way."

Thomas A. Edison: "The three great essentials to achieve anything worth while are: First, hard work; second, stick-to-itiveness; third, common sense."

Calvin Coolidge: "Expect to be called a demagogue, but don't be a demagogue."

Theodore N. Vail: "Imagination is necessary to grasp what is new or original, but it must be backed by powers of observation, concentration and reflection."

Louis F. Swift: "Advice which I have given employes is good for all young men. That is, 'Get in debt.'"

Henry Van Dyke: "Mastery of the way to do things is what counts."

Hoke Smith: "Patient persistence."

John Sharp Williams: "If I have any particular advice concerning the upbuilding of character it is for one not to tie oneself too closely to authorities, creeds, cliques or clans."

E. W. Howe: "You lack ordinary sense if you believe roguery pays. There is not one man in a thousand capable of being a successful rogue, while any one may succeed as an honest man."

It is rather difficult to sum up all these conclusions and get their practical gist.

The one underlying thought, however, seems to be clear. It is that all these men had two qualities, and that really they are looking at those two qualities from varying angles.

The two are courage and optimism.

The first step in success is to conquer fear.

And no soul ever proved itself great that did not have faith, that did not believe in itself and its star.

The best advice still for youth is what the Lord said to Joshua when He sent him out to take the Promised Land.

"Only be thou strong and of a good courage."

Runyon Tells Of The 999

BY DAMON RUNYON

Our town was a railroad town, and every boy aspired to be a railroader, preferably an engineer.

We had two great trains—the "Cannon Ball" and the "Nellie Bly"—the latter a Santa Fe flyer named for the famous lady who now writes for The New York Evening Journal.

The men at the throttles of the engines which pulled these trains were the beaux ideals of the kids of our community. To us their station was more imposing than that of President of the United States.

However, we had heard from the lips of the railroad men of a marvelous train somewhere back in the mystic East, a train more wonderful than the "Cannon Ball" or the "Nellie Bly," which was called the Empire State Express.

This train, we heard, was drawn by a remarkable engine of such mechanical prowess that it became a figure of speech in describing speed. It was known as the 999. The engineers of the "Cannon Ball" and the "Nellie Bly" were great men, but the man at the throttle of the 999 was a sort of superman, as we understood it, driving a super engine.

The other day I picked up a little magazine issued by the New York Central lines, and behold, there was the story of the engine which once roared through my youthful dreams of romance and adventure!

It seems that the 999 is still in existence, though it no longer pulls the Empire State Express. It is now hauling local trains No. 30 and No. 37, which run between Jersey Shore Junction and Patton on the Pennsylvania division in the Beech Creek coal mining district.

Like the race horse which age and infirmity consigns to a delivery wagon, the once proud 999 has sunk to rather a lowly estate. But it seems that it looks just about the same as in the days when it was thundering along the tracks of fame and glory, except that it now has an electric headlight and modern safety appliances. It is numbered 1086.

Twenty-nine years ago, October 26, 1891, the Empire State Express made its first Western trip, running from New York to Buffalo. It covered the 439 miles in eight hours, with stops at Albany, Utica, Syracuse and Rochester. Exclusive of stops, the speed was approximately sixty miles an hour.

This speed astounded the country. The Empire State Express became internationally famous. It is still pretty well known, but the running time has been lengthened to nine hours.

In May, 1893, with the 999 pulling the train, the Empire State Express hung up a record of 112.5 miles per hour. This sensational performance set the whole world buzzing.

The story in the magazine tells us that the 999 was designed by the late William Buchanan, for many years superintendent of motive power of the New York Central. However, much credit for the speed attained by the engine is given Dr. Plimmon H. Dudley, then and now consulting engineer of rails, tires and structural steel.

Dr. Dudley designed the 100-pound rail, among other things, without which the engine could scarcely have made its record. Buchanan turned his 999 out of the West Albany shops in April, 1893, and after a little tuning up it reeled off its astounding run.

Charles Hogan was at the throttle of the 999 that day. Hogan is now manager of the department of shop labor at Buffalo. He was born in 1850, and at fifteen was a track hand on the Lake Shore Railroad at $32 per month. He became a locomotive engineer in 1870.

In the nineties an engine on the London & Northwestern Railroad, known as the Great Britain, was knocking records right and left, but the 999 put all other mechanical speed devices in the shade.

The 999 pulled a four-car train, and the passengers in the cars knew they were moving along. The Twentieth Century Limited, running between New York and Chicago, was put on ten years after the Empire State as the last word in railroad speed and luxury, but somehow the Twentieth Century has never carried the same glamor as the old Buffalo train.

It is said that the New York Central plans to put the 999 on permanent exhibition at Grand Central Terminal when it is finally decided that it is no longer fit for train service. They haven't gone beyond the old engine in point of speed in their railroad progress.

HYPNOTISM BARRED THOUGH AIDING FAMINE

"Quiz" in the Malaya Tribune says: The Secretary for Chinese Affairs, F.M.S., refused to allow an exhibition of hypnotism in aid of the Famine Relief Fund, fearing that "some unscrupulous people may acquire the knowledge of this science and will probably put it to a bad use." What about the possible good uses? Think of hypnotising one type of Government official into a state of real energy (risking the possibility of heart failure) or of tricking a few local traders into selling things at a mere 50 percent profit..

WAR MEMORIAL AT SINGAPORE UNUSUAL

The touches of realism in Santry's drawing of the Singapore War Memorial show what the artist-architect can do when he is really trying. Several immaculately clad tourists, a Malay, a ricsha puller and a hawker are "worked in," but more prophetic would have been a little market scene arranged on the steps—the sattie man, the colored bun seller and the juicy-orange vendor all complete.

LITTLE HSU IS STILL AT LARGE

In spite of official denials, the Hochi sticks to its story that "Little Hsu" is in Yokohama. After Mr. Obata's denial of any sort of responsibility, it is rather remarkable that the Japanese authorities should give out that General Hsu is to be forbidden admission at any Japanese port, says the Japan Chonicle.

The Herald of Asia, we notice, denies that Mr. Obata had any responsibility in the matter, in spite of the fact that his assurances were so strong that the Chinese authorities did not put a cordon round the Legation to prevent the escape of the Anfu guests. If there were no responsibility, and there is no one to blame in the matter, why should the "sacred right of asylum" be denied in advance to the fugitive Anfu leader?

The prohibition implies a recognition of Mr. Obata's responsibility and a wish not to make the case any worse.

CHARGE JAPANESE EVADE CONSCRIPTION

That the number of attempted evasions of the conscription law in Japan is increasing year by year is a statement attributed to a high official by the Tokio Mainichi. "It is very serious," the official is quoted as having said, "for the people to lose interest in military affairs, but this is the natural outcome of the propagation of modern thought. This is not desirable. The number of offenders during 1919 was classified as follows: hiding military ages, 2,674; failing to comply with the conscription laws, 4,063; rebellion by men in service, 1,511; other offences 362. There was an increase of 654 such offences during the year.

MANAGER OF DOCK AT BANGKOK LEAVES

Mr. J. S. Smyth is leaving Bangkok for home early next year. His successor as manager at the Bangkok Dock is Mr. J. M. Sinclair, who is expected to take over charge early in February. Mr. J. M. Sinclair was divisional engineer of railways in Kelantan before going to Siam in the middle of 1913.

HONGKONG HAS BRANCH OF ROYAL ARTILLERY

Hongkong now has a branch of the Royal Artillery Association.

It was formed at a meeting held in the R.A. Theater, which was well attended by those interested in the subject. Colonel Loring, C.M.G., D.S.O., presided, and Captain Olliver acted as Hon. Secretrary. At least fifty members were enrolled.

Among those present were Lieut-Colonel Crosse, Major Hickling, Major Wakefield, Major Bagnall, Major Downing, Major Saunders, Capts. Davies, Bristow, Hewitt, Mortmer, Lieuts. Chester, Lovegrove, Thornton, Moggeridge and Messrs. L. S. Greenhill and W. I. Rosser.

Why Not Grow Personality?

BY DR. WM. A. McKEEVER
(Professor in the University of Kansas and an Authority on Child Training)

"In one of your articles you say that personality counts for much. But what is personality, and how can one acquire such a thing if he hasn't it?" asks a young man.

Personality is a peculiar individual force and effect of one's behavior, which makes him comfortable to the manners and customs of others, and yet not a slave or subject of them.

Personality is a combination of all the qualities and tendencies in one's life in such a way as to consitute an interesting difference.

Personality implies that one is very similar to every one else in general, but strikingly different from every one else in particular.

The usual fault of the youth of either sex is to try over much to conform to standards of manners and customs and to stop at that. Many young persons become infatuated with this quest; but it is like chasing the rainbow, you never get it.

As a result of this one-sided search, the cities are filled with sad and disappointed young souls. Their cry is, "Why can't I be like others, or like So-and-So?" And, like the tints of the rainbow, the beauty sought exclusively in the outer distance quickly fades and there remains no further incentive or joy in action.

Now, my young friend, the essence of the attractive personality is in yourself and not in others. You must derive for yourself through practise a peculiar attitude of mind and heart toward the world and the people in it. Any one can "conform," that is, take on the superficial manners and customs of the masses and thus make himself harmonious and inconspicuous in his relations to others. But the rules for the making of a positive personality imply more than this, and especially a checking up on one's inner life.

Do not be surprised, however, at the simplicity of this program, for it is partly the virtue of honest simplicity which makes a worthy personality stand out in bold relief to others.

Be clean. If there is unhealthy thought in your words or actions, single out and drop every such point of ugliness. By degrees you can rout this coarse enemy of character and conquer him.

Be honest. Cultivate the habit of looking people in the eye; use a clear, positive tone in addressing them. Think, speak and act in terms of honesty and your life will tend to become an open book, attractive to all alike.

Be respectable. That is, keep yourself employed in some business which people regard as respectable and necessary to the common good. Avoid every form of "shady" business, even for big wages. A valuable part of one's force of personality comes from secret knowledge that his daily business is approved by public opinion.

Be high minded. Watch for the good in people; expect them to be good to you; read daily a few lines of inspiring literature; notice the suffering or sorrow of some other one and try to relieve it. Pause at night outside to look into the sky and think of the Mighty Beneficence which holds this interesting universe in an order of such wonderful poise and sublimity.

So, my young friend, you are getting the idea you are very common and yet strikingly uncommon—a slow and endless growth from within—and this is Personality.

Chose The Wrong Volume

A husband, who has dined too well, finds his way home in the small hours of the morning. He reaches the library just as he hears his wife's footsteps at the head of the stairs leading to her bedroom. He easily reaches for a volume from the bookcase, drops into an armchair, and has the book spread in his lap as his wife enters.

"John, what are you doing here at this hour?" she asks.

"Just reading, dear. This book has been in the library five years; I've made up my mind dozens of times to read it; tonight I'm going to finish it."

The wife, in tones of mingled disgust and authority, replies: "John, close that draughtboard and come to bed."
